The traditional idea of the typical University atmosphere includes the old, ivy colored buildings, full of memories for alums and students alike. The Administration building and the buildings of the Quadrangle, for example embody these ideas on UC's campus. We cannot ignore the future, though, which often calls for changes, so as new ideas and needs arise in education, needs in building facilities arise also. New McMicken and the Alms Building are symbolic of progress, but just as with ideas, the old is not completely eliminated, and at UC the old and the new, in ideas and buildings, stand side by side.

REGISTRATION . . .

A backward glance at the end of the day reveals a maze of waiting lines, cards to copy, and have stamped. Only when the registrar is finally paid does the feeling that he is "in" come to the freshman!

BOOKSTORE BUSINESS

A freshman's introduction to campus and college life more often than not comes through the bewildering experience of registration. The day usually begins with a series of aptitude tests which sound more confusing than capable of discovering any of the "answers" about their victims. Questions on everything from mathematics to "what would you like to do" are supposed to indicate whether the student's talent is for anything from a science to training canaries. Once these are over the real work appears as the prospective student begins the process of becoming a full fledged member of the freshman class.

GETTING SETTLED

During the week or two before the official opening of school, campus seems to wake up with a jolt from its usual summer-time peace and quiet. The stir is caused by out-of-town students, the boys as well as the girls, coming back early to get "first chance" at the best rooms in the dorms and to have a final "fling" with old friends before settling down to classes. Sorority rushing, of course, contributes its share to the bustle as rushees can be seen, at almost any time, dashing around campus to pick up invitations, or on the way to another set of parties.

GRILL TIME

"All work and no play . . ."—we all know the saying and to keep from becoming dull "Jacks and Janes" we make good use of the "play" time—usually in the Grill at Bridge or in the Union Lounges being sociable or just loafing.

MIXING AT A DIFFERENT SPEED

The idea of "lab class" always seems to hald some sort of strange fascination for most people. It is an idea usually associated with a chemistry course and young, budding scientists befare long tables filled with intricate sets of glass tubing and apparatus, cautiously pouring solutions from one test tube to another. Actually, a lab class, which means an apportunity to put into practice what has been learned, is just as frequent in departments other than science. Closely related to the chemistry labs are the Home Ec. Food and Nutrition labs. Labs extensively fitted with kitchen equipment provide future homemakers and dietitians with the facilities for learning and developing the best methods of food preparation. Applied arts drawing classes are another version of the "lab class" as the art students "learn by doing." Far from being confined in one room they have the space of the whole campus and warm weather finds them making good use of each scene.

LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

Wheels, Inc., the Leadership Canference sponsored by Mortar Board and ODK was held last fall at Camp Kern. Each organization on campus was represented; and other interested students participated in the conference. The weekend was planned to help all student groups plan and execute their programs to the fullest advantage. The workshops focused on problems of leadership and followship. On the lighter side was hiking, ping pong, square dancing and the days were climaxed with delicious food. Two recommendations were for plenty of hot water and heating systems in the tents.

IN MY DAY . . .

DAD'S DAY

One of the favorite traditions on campus is the annual Dad's Day. Each fall one Saturday is designated Dad's Day and it is the custom for each student to invite his or her Dad to be his guest and to sit with him in the student's section of the football game in the afternoon. Special note is taken of the fathers of the members of the team playing in the game, so there is a "Dad's Bench" next to the team bench. The fathers, each wearing a number corresponding to the one on his son's jersey, get a "coaches eye view" of the game and are introduced to the crowd at half-time. A good game helps everyone's enthusiasm and there could be no complaint about this year's 50 to 0 victory over Washington and Lee.

HOMECOMING

DELTA ZETA

The annual Homecoming football game was played this year on November 8 when the Bearcats were hast to Ohio University. Most organizations on campus entered floats into the contest and parade sponsored by the Alumni Association. Weeks of planning, construction, and plenty of hard work preceded this day. The excitement and interest began building up the night before, as sororities and fraternities worked most of the night by spotlights to finish the floats in time. Enthusiasm was high as the floats assembled at Nippert Stadium for the pre-game parade although the weather was none too kind to either the floats or the crowds. On the other hand, the spirits of some organizations went to sub-zero as their floats were struck by misfortune, and unable to enter competition, before they reached the stadium. At half time the trophies for the most beautiful float were awarded to ADPi and SAE while the awards for the most humorous floats were claimed by Delta Zeta and Phi Delt.

SOPHOS DANCE

One of the most successful dances this year was the annual Sophos dance at which Carolyn Good of Alpha Chi Omega carried off top honors to become Sophos Queen. This year for the first time the 4 runners-up were selected to form the Sophos Court. The competition was highly spirited with each sorority vying to put its candidate on top. Each year the sororities put up their most appealing freshman girl to try to win the crown. The grill is plastered with posters and the fraternity men are deluged with serenades. As the end of the contest draws near the pitch of excitement heightens. At last at 12:00 midnight the president of Sophos breaks through the huge paper Sophos jug with the Queen on his arm. A party held after the dance in honor of the Queen brings to an end a night long to be remembered in the life of one happy little co-ed.

CONVOCATIONS

In common with most educators, those who formulate policy at the University of Cincinnati believe that learning does not end with the classroom. In keeping with this idea the University arranges a program of convocations which presents speakers from many fields calculated to broaden the students and provide them with new, and sometimes challenging, ideas. Convocations are also used to highlight campus activities such as Greek Week and Religious Emphasis Week. And last but not least, there are the pep rallies before the cruciol games with Miomi and Xavier.

THOSE WHO CAME DOWN THE RIVER

The University was fortunate this year, as it has also been in the past, in having several nationally known personages as guests and speakers on campus. Some of these people came to the University through the Contemporary Thought Series of programs while others addressed student convocations. Among them, Ethel Smith with her captivating organ concert provided one of the gayest entertainment notes. Dr. Roy K. Marshall, well known educator and television personality, was presented in a most interesting program. For those who lean, in interest, toward droma, Mr. Basil Rathbone, noted for his outstanding stage and screen performances, provided a much enjoyed evening program.

METRO BENEFIT SHOW

On UC's campus the name Metro is synonomous with service and Metro has devised unique ways to be of service to many groups and among these is the annual Metro Benefit Show. The proceeds from the show are used by the group to finance the, also annual, Christmas party given for underprivileged children. One of the city's popular disc-jockeys, Walter Phillips, acted as master of ceremonies this year for the show which featured student variety acts.

SANTA AND HIS LITTLE HELPER

Christmas parties are frequent affairs on campus during the weeks befare the holidays. The best known of these is the annual party given by Metro for underprivileged children. The party is held in the lounge of the Campus Y.M.C.A. and the members have as much fun as the little guests, calling for them, and entertaining them for the afternaon. Complete with Christmas tree, games, a visit from Santa to distribute toys, and refreshments of milk and cookies, the party is a huge success fram every angle.

STUDENTS AND FACULTY OF THE APPLIED ARTS COLLEGE WORK AND PLAY TOGETHER TO MAKE THE BALL A SUCCESS

BEAUX ARTS BALL

AN ARRAY OF "ENTERTAINERS" OF WHICH ANY CIRCUS COULD BE JUSTLY PROUD

The masquerading spirit seizes everyone at some time or other and at UC the Beaux Arts Ball satisfies this yen on a campus wide scale. The Applied Arts Tribunal plans and sponsors this dance early each spring, giving everyone who attends ample rein in devising a costume. The theme for this year's Ball, "The Greatest Show On Earth," carried with it all of the atmosphere of the "big top" and the spirit of carnival life complete with barkers, side show performers, and the indispensible clowns. Instead of the sweater-clad fellows and gals who show up for class every day, this dance was attended by daring fire-eaters, glamorous acrobats, mysteriaus fortune tellers, and the typical "sad 'n funny" clawns.

MARDI GRAS DANCE

Taken from the old New Orleans tradition "Mardi Gras" is an almost magic term with the power to evoke festive spirit in just about anyone. Taking advantage of this, the Union makes "Mardis Gras" the theme of one of the most successful dances each year. Streamers, bolloons, and all the trimmings give the Union the necessary holiday atmosphere and the crowd of dancers provides the typical party spirit.

STUDENT UNION LIFE

Relaxation is as important as hard work to any well done jab and this is true for school work, too. The Student Union is the center for this relaxation on campus and the launges and music raam are the perfect places for a few minutes of comfortable loafing between classes. The game roam and new TV room offer entertainment and of course, there is the Grill where the inevitable bridge game flaurishes. The Union sees its share of work too, since it is the central meeting place for students, and there is always a long list of room reservations for group meetings. The Union Desk receives all imaginable requests, and from Deans to the greenest freshman, all get in return the same friendly help.

BUSINESS AS USUAL AT THE UNION DESK

MILITARY BALL

Each spring Campus virtually "goes military" as the spotlight of social anticipation is turned on the coming Military Ball. Several of the military honorary societies join efforts in planning and presenting this dance which is always one of the "biggest and best" on the social calendar. One of the major attractions of the dance is the presentation of the ROTC's Honorary Cadet Colonel during the course of the evening. The sorority candidates spend weeks of practice in becoming versed in military procedure and, winner or not, each girl finds it an interesting and profitable experience.

V.I.C., Vocational Information Conference, is a biennial project of Women's Senate intended to give information on the various occupations open to women in the world today. Conferences and lectures were conducted by women who were outstanding in their professional fields, which included Nursing, business, politics, and social work. Mrs. Beatrice Foley, well-known fashion expert and commentator, was the speaker at the opening luncheon, and spoke on the well-groomed appearance which is a necessity in any profession.

CAMPUS ELECTIONS

This year the elections on campus were marked by a sizeable increase in student participation. This was due to the new system of voting initiated by student council, which incorporated the idea of precincts voting. 43% of the student body exercised their right to vote as compared with 28% for the previous year. As usual the elections were marked by gaily decorated posters in the student union. Personal letters to voters and brass band parades promoted the old time voting spirit. The student council hopes in the future to improve the precincts system of voting and to continue the increase in student porticipation.

THESE GREENS WERE JUST OFF THE BOAT

GREEK STUNT NIGHT

In the past the Greeks on campus, the fraternities and sororities as groups, have spansored a "Greek Weekend" each spring. This year that weekend grew up into a full week as the Greeks daubled their activities to bring greater understanding of their organizations to the public. The week's pragram was complete with workshops and speakers to fill the business side and dances, parties and games and stunts to provide the fun and enjoyment. Saturday night found everyone packing Wilson Auditarium to see the sorority and fraternity teams entering skits in Stunt Night and to watch fraternity contestants vie for the Ugliest Man Title.

Mummers Guild members outdid themselves in their dramatic presentations this year. Presenting such outstanding productions as "Anything Goes" by Cole Parter, "High Tor," by Maxwell Anderson, and "The Enchanted," in which Miss Julie Haydon, a professional actress starred, Mummers Guild realized a mast successful season. The spirit in the Guild, always high, reached a new peak at the beer parties after rehearsals. After each production the Guild sponsored a cast party at which all entertained themselves for a change. Mummers Guild is one of the largest campus groups and offers a wide variety of experience to all. Set building and painting, castume making, and of course, singing and acting parts for performers are just a few of the jobs available to those interested in dramatic productions.

Once again a Kappa Delta stole the crown of Junior Prom Queen as Pat Hart stepped forth to claim her title. The four attendants chosen as the Queen's court were Carole Brunner, Ann Cors, Betty Chase, and Kay Koerner. To the combined music of Burt Farber and Eddie Kadel at Castle Farm, the winners were announced by Bob Reece, Class President.

THE POSTER CAMPAIGN

After much time campaigning in the grill and at open houses, the Junior Prom candidates stepped forth on the night of February 20. In a skit presented by members of the class the candidates partrayed a Harem from which a Queen was to be chosen. Pat Hart was selected to reign, and after being presented by Bab Reece she was serenaded by her sorarity sisters. At this grand mament all the time spent in preparations for the dance was fargatten, and everyone felt proud of "the Queen of the 1953 Junior Prom."

Everyone understood why the girls were so eager to buy the tickets for the dance held in the Student Union on March 21—it was the Kampus King Dance. Even if they didn't pay for the tickets, they wanted to cast their votes for their favorite candidate. For once, the fraternities campaigned and held the Open Houses on the Tuesday before the dance. Although each organization hoped to win the crown, the Phi Kappas triumphed when Ed Koenig was announced "Kampus King." Serving on Ed's court were Irv Bass, Ron Brill, Dusty Daniels, Jerry McCarthy, and Ken Stevenson. The winners and their fraternity brothers felt more than rewarded for the days spent campaigning. Now the boys were the center of attraction, and the girls were the voters.

CONGRATULATIONS BOB & NAN

The amount of time and effort exerted by the Sororities and Fraternities competing in the Interfraternity Sing is equaled by no other campus activity and, in many ways, the accomplishments achieved by the participants go unequaled, also. The Sing, sponsored each Spring by the University Alumnae Association, offers the individual Greek organization an opportunity to work as a unit on a project providing enjoyment and entertainment as well as cultural value for listeners and participants.

Competition among the sororities and fraternities is, and always has been, keen and the many long hours of practice result in performances of truly professional quality, which makes the selections of the winners a most difficult choice. The Spring of 1952 saw a new group in the "winner's circle" as Bob Newman accepted the coveted trophy for the Phi Delts, victorious after a Sig Alph winning streak of 4 years. The mention of a long series of wins turns attention to Kappa Kappa Gamma as they shared award honors for the third straight year.

SIGMA SIGMA CARNIVAL

Every year Nippert Stadium is gaily decorated with streamers and ribbons for the spectacular Sigma Sigma Carnival. All the Greek and independent organizations compete for the most entertaining booth or side shaw. The fun is added to by competition for the cups given for the best booths in the classifications of most carnival like, most popular, and most beautiful. A total of six traphies are annually awarded. The smell of popcorn and cotton candy fill the air, while barkers shout the attractions of their shows. Sigma Sigma Carnival is known as a gay evening and a gala event.

The most popular booths were put on by Beta Theta Pi and Kappa Alpha Theta. The Betas auctioned off an old car, while the Thetas raffled stuffed clowns and ran a fish pond. The most beautiful booths were won by Sigma Delta Tau and Phi Kappa. Both were very attractive and drew a lot of attention. The Lambda Chi Alphas staged a Weight 'n Fate booth which was very popular while the Alpha Gamma Deltas had Dunk A Belle contests. The Phi Delts in a noncompetitioning booth had their annual side show which was as usual one of the highlights of the carnival.

WE REACH OUR GOAL . . .

The accomplishment of the goal of four years, the goal of a lifetime really, is hard to comprehend in the space of just a minute or two, but no one mistakes the wonderful feeling accompanying the sheepskin and the handshake from the Dean. Four years of hard work, and fun too, have led not to the end of the road but actually to the beginning, and the door is opened to all of the opportunities life has to offer.

Our minds were filled with conflicting thoughts as we looked down at our hard earned diplomas. We were jubilant because we had just graduated, but that very same graduation left sobering thoughts of the future before us echoing through our inner selves. Actually, many of us had our next two years all planned out through the courtesy of Uncle Sam. A good many engagement rings, and some wedding rings, were also in the picture. But we were all happy, for now.

DR. RAYMOND WALTERS

A genial smile and a friendly "hello" are the most familiar trademark of UC's President, Dr. Raymond Walters. In his professional field, Dr. Walters' continued service to the University and his interest in national educational affairs have brought him recognition and honar from many quarters. This in addition to his warm personality, gives to the University a distinguished leader.

DR. WALTERS SURVEYS CAMPUS DEVELOPMENT

PROGRESS AND GROWTH

Mare vividly descriptive than words are the CINCIN-NATIAN phatagraphs of the University's newest buildings. They are, as the pictures reveal, structures combining utility and beauty. Soan ta fallow is the massive and attractive Armory-Fieldhouse far the canstruction of which controcts were recently awarded. There will then be a total of a dozen majar and minor construction projects campleted during the past two decades (in reverse time order) as fallaws:

Armory-Fieldhause, to be completed in 1954
Herbert Greer French Residence Hall for men, 1953
Frederick H. and Eleanora C. U. Alms Memorial, 1952
McMicken Hall, Hanna Hall, Cunningham Hall, 1950
Addition to Memorial Dormitory for wamen, 1949
Addition to the Charles F. Kettering Laboratory, 1949
Aeronautical Demonstration Laboratory, 1947
Chemistry Laboratory Wing, 1940
R.O.T.C. Materiel Building, 1939
Greek Amphitheatre, 1937
Student Union Building, 1937
Enlargement of Nippert Memorial Stadium, 1936
Construction of Playing Fields, 1935

I would stress that, far from being grandiose, this development has been in prudent accardance with realistic palicy. The building pragram was designed to accammodate actual growth in student enrollment and to insure sites for the future through the acquisition of additional acreage in Burnet Woods Park.

As ta actual growth, the figures for 1952-53 shaws 6,237 students in the ten day colleges of the University and 6,066 students in the Evening College, a grand total of 12,303, which ranks UC as twenty-fourth numerically among American universities in grand total attendance. In 1932-33, the fall attendance was 4,571 students in eight day colleges and 4,612 students in two evening departments.

As far the future, there are bound to be much larger enrollments at UC, as at other universities and colleges, when the tide of increased youthful papulation flows in upon the campus during the next decade.

Canstruction casts at the University have been economical, as are operation and maintenance expenditures.

Our buildings, architecturally varied in accordance with their purposes, have a comman element in the same type of pleasing red brick canstruction. Their attractiveness, outside and inside, does not depend upon adornment but is based upon line and color.

It is fitting that the University of Cincinnati should be a beautiful place as well as a useful place. The University testifies, through the loveliness of its campus and buildings, to the esthetic and spiritual values which give the finest meaning to education and to life.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The nine members who compose the Board of Directors of the University of Cincinnati are selected from among the community's prominent leaders of the civic, industrial, and professional world. Under the capable chairmanship of Frank F. Dinsmore they function behind the scenes and, though the average student may seldom hear of them, ore responsible for the smooth operation of almost every phase of our University life. Primarily, theirs is the jab of determining matters of Student and Faculty policy but they are also concerned with co-ordinating the ever-broadening academic, athletic, and social activities and necessities of the University.

In this respect their duties range all the way from supervising the construction of new buildings and hiring new professors to having "No Smoking" signs placed in the classrooms. The completion of the new McMicken Hall a few years ago, of the Alms Building, as the permanent home of the Applied Arts College, and French Memorial Dormitory this year stand as evidence of the ceaseless efforts of the Board to promote the best interests of our expanding University.

By the end of her first year at UC, every girl has made some contact with the Dean of Women's Office. It could have been an interview or just a friendly chat. This is just one means employed by the Dean of Women in counseling the women students. Our dean, Lillian M. Johnson, ably fills her post. Aside from this official capacity, she serves the University as both member and adviser to many organizations. We are all quite proud of her; one of the friendliest and most gracious personalities on campus. Assisting Dean Johnson is Grace Brown, Assistant Dean of Women. Working together, these two have made their office one of the most pleasant spots at UC. Any co-ed will agree.

DEAN OF MEN

The Dean of Men's Office is one of the busiest places on compus. It is the center of activity for many groups and students with questions and problems to be solved. This is caused by the foct that the Dean of Men, Robert W. Bishop, not only advises all the male students here at the University, but also hondles the affairs of the foreign students. In addition to these time consuming jobs, he advises such organizations as Men's Senate, the Interfraternity Council, and many others. For these reasons UC's Dean of Men is one of the most esteemed members of our Faculty. This year UC males found a new face in the Dean of Men's Office, as James B. Whitehead took over the position of Assistan Dean. The team of Bishop and Whitehead is hard to beat.

COLLEGE OF APPLIED ARTS

A staggering load of paints, T-square, tackle box, drawing board, endless rolls of paper, and an occasional book identifies the typical Applied Arts student. The breaks in classes which permit a dash to the Grill, and the outdoor classes which seem to blossom on campus at the first hint of warm weather are part of a fun-filled school atmosphere envied by the rest of campus. However, under the guidance of Dean Ernest Pickering this "informal" education becomes both extensive and practical.

STUDENT COUNCIL

As the major student government organization, Student Council represents the interests of each student on campus. The purpose behind the action the Council takes in any matter is to promote individual and group interests in so far as it is possible. Composed of representatives from each of the eight colleges, Presidents of Men's and Women's Senates, the various campus wide organizations and delegates at large, the Council works to co-ordinate the activities of the colleges and groups and draw them together into a unified University. Included in the Council's specific duties are the allocation of money from the student activity fees to various organizations, among them the campus publications, Orientation Board, College tribunals, and Junior Advisers; the supervision of the three major boards—Publications, Orientation, and Social Boards; and the selection of the editors of the Cincinnation, News Record, Profile, and Student Directory. The charters or constitutions of many campus groups must also be reveiwed and passed by Council so it is easy to see that membership on Student Council is a big responsibility besides being a great honor.

BUDGET COMMITTEE

Since the activities of Student Council affect virtually every individual and group on campus, its meetings are open to any student who would care to attend. To keep in touch with student reactions and suggestions the Council's Student Grievance Committee regularly hears student complaints and reports the recommendations for Council's action. Like any other group Council's job has its lighter moments, though, and each spring the members gather for the big yearly picnic.

WOMEN'S SENATE

Wamen's Senate, the wamen's counterpart of the men's governing group, is composed of representatives from every group on campus having a membership numbering forty percent or more women students. Women's Senate cuts the ribbon each fall, so to speak, opening activities on campus by giving a tea early in September introducing incoming freshmen women to Greek Sorority Rushing and to campus social life in general. Several important women's organizations operate directly under the sponsorship of Women's Senate. Among these is Junior Advisers, a group of junior women who organize a series of fall programs designed to familiarize freshmen women with campus, its traditions and activities, and with the academic and social aspects of college life. Women's Senate also maintains a Used-Book Store, the profits of which are turned over to the U.C. Scholarship Fund. Among its special projects the Senate spansors the biennial Vocational Information Conference held early in the Spring and the traditional Strawberry Breakfast to honor senior women during Senior Week.

MEN'S SENATE

Men's Senate, as a representative body of all male students on campus, has as its primary duty the job of co-ordinating the activities of all men's organizations. Consequently, the Senate has an accompanying job of maintaining a close study of the activities of these groups. However, the Senate is not concerned exclusively with group activity but is interested in the welfare of each individual male student on campus. Because of this, the Senate's first, and perhaps biggest, and most important undertaking each year is the orientation program which it plans for incoming freshmen men. Once these new students have waded through the bewilderment of registration and have found their places on campus, the Senate works to bolster their spirit. A smoker held for the freshmen shortly after school has started is designed to introduce to them some of U.C.'s traditions and customs and to give them information concerning the activities in which they might be interested. As its final act finishing off the year the Senate presents a silver cup to the outstanding men's group on campus.

ORIENTATION BOARD

This hard working group of students helps the incoming freshman class top the many hurdles that confront them when they take that big step and come to college. The Orientation Board gives these green frosh many helpful suggestions initiating them into the first "big" days of college life. This faculty-student Board is ready and able to answer any of the multitude of questions that beset a college freshman. To get their first year off to a good start, Orientation Board takes the freshman on a guided tour and introduces them to the administrative staff. The Board is composed of representatives of colleges and heads of Men's and Women's Senates, Junior Advisers, and Men's Advisory System. The members work the year long planning and evaluating their program as an effort to present an effective orientation. Many an upperclassman looks back and thanks Orientation Board whole-heartedly for the informative, pleasant introduction to campus life.

SOCIAL BOARD

"Has that event been cleared with the Social Board?" This has become a very well known question on campus because Social Board has come to be the co-ordination committee for all campus social affairs. If you have ever wondered what prevented two big social affairs from occuring on the same night or on two successive nights, you will find that is was through the efforts of Social Board. Social Board co-ordinates these all-campus affairs by spacing them throughout the year and by regulating the number of activities on a specific night. Social chairmen of campus organizations also rely on Social Board for assistance in planning functions for students. In addition, Social Board keeps U.C. students informed concerning the time and the place of various activities by posting a calendar of coming events on the bulletin board in the lobby outside the Union Grill. Social Board makes it possible for everyone to get the very most from a carefully planned and smoothly operated social year.

JUNIOR ADVISERS

An auxiliary to the Dean of Women's office, the Junior Advisers devote much time and effort to aid in a complete orientation of all freshman wamen. The Advisers are selected in March by the previous year's group of Advisers on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service to the University. Plans for the fall orientation are begun early in the spring during a training program and the series of Tuesday programs for the Freshmen is also arranged. Several new features, including teas at the Nurses' Home and at Memarial Darmitory, were initiated by this year's members. The purpose of these teas was to give special attention to these students living away from home. There was also a special orientation program for students in Section II of the Coap colleges. Climax of the year's program was an informal party at which the juniors entertained the freshmen. The highlights of the year was the dinner and Pep Rally before the X.U.-U.C. game. Learning about the school and its activities along with the new students each year proves to be just as much fun as it is work for the Junior Advisers.

MENS' ADVISORY BOARD

The formation of the Men's Senate Advisory System this past year marked the development of a new method of counseling for incoming male freshmen. Through experience it had been found that a great many of the problems of new students can be eliminated by an advisory system administered by students. Consequently, the purpose of the group was stated as being "to help the individual freshman man make more adequate adjustment to the campus community at the very outset of his college career." The advisers were pre-junior, junior, and senior men from each of the colleges, selected on a basis of their own successful adjustment to college life, qualities of personality and scholastic achievement, and their ability to communicate ideas to a group. The program consisted in a series of five weekly meetings at which the groups of freshmen were given information by their adviser concerning the various aspects of campus life including general background and history of UC, academic and study habits, extra-curricular activities, campus social program, and advice in budgeting time and money. Discussions at the meetings also provided the answers for many questions.

The Ohio Society of Professional Engineers is a student chapter of a state-wide society which is celebrating its 75th anniversary this year. Seeking to develop a professional attitude on the part of students in all branches of the College of Engineering a schedule of meetings and inspection trips of interest to all engineers is maintained, during the year. Awards are given to the outstanding senior in the college, and to the prominent member in each of the Departments of Engineering by the Cincinnati Professional chapter.

This year, the upperclassmen majoring in chemistry who constitute Alpha Chi Sigma are celebrating a dual anniversary. It is the 50th anniversary of Alpha Chi Sigma nationally and its 33rd year on the U.C. campus. Alpha Chi Sigma strives not only to produce excellent chemists, but also men well fitted to business socially. To achieve this they have two social meetings a month, meeting for meals or date parties. Also, at their three meetings each section the members hear talks by experts in various fields related to chemistry.

You've probably seen men with rods, transits, and notebooks roaming campus. From among these civil engineers the Society of Civil Engineers has drawn many outstanding members. The ASCE is devoted to acquainting its members with current problems, theories, and practices in civil engineering. This year has seen a renewed interest and zeal on the part of ASCE members. They are increasing and contemplating their classroom knowledge with a series of excellent speakers—prominent men in civil engineering and related fields—at their meetings.

They also increased their knowledge and their business contacts by having a joint dinner meeting with the Cincinnati chapter of the seniar ASCE. In the interest of acquiring not only more knowledge, but also a better understanding of other colleges, and of course to have some fun, a number of the members of the Cincinnati chapter attended the North Central Regional Conference of the ASCE in Detroit. The ASCE also sponsors a freshman smoker to greet new civils and a senior picnic to say "Goodbye" to graduates.

DELTA PHI ALPHA

Delta Phi Alpha, a national honorary for outstanding students of German, have held their meetings in the student union once a month during the past year. Slides and lectures help make their program, which is designed to further the study of German literature and culture, not only educational, but interesting. Membership is open to bath students and faculty members. A scholastic average of at least a B is required by the organization. With enthusiasm and a spirit of gaod fellowship Delta Phi Alpha members wark hard to increase their knowledge of German.

An excellent example of international ca-operation operates right here on UC's campus with very few knowing anything about it. Of course we are speaking of the group of British businessmen who come to the U.S. to spend a year here at UC studying Industrial management and American business techniques. What will the opinions be? The Forensic Guild presents a problem: "Resolved, that the Congress of the United States should enact a Fair Employment Practices Law." Topics such as this are debated by the enthusiastic members of Forensics Guild who hold meetings with teams representing over fifty colleges. The Guild sponsors the College Orator Contest from which two members are elected to Tau Kappa Alpha, the national debate honorary. Although this is a rather new organization it provides valuable experience and satisfies personal interest in debating.

A recent addition to the organizations on campus, Caducea, founded in 1952, is a group limited in membership to pre-med and science majors. They stimulate an appreciation of the value of pre-medical education, and encourage excellence in scholarship as well as promote cooperation among medical students, and educators in the field. #### BUSINESS EDUCATION CLUB

As its major function the Business Education Club encourages scholarship among the undergraduates in the Business Education department. Through discussion of teaching and social business problems a closer relationship is established between faculty and students. The Club's social spirit has led to some big events also, including a Christmas party, Spring picnic, participation in T.C. Open House and the gift of a Christmas basket to a needy family. Each year the Club also has a joint meeting with Delta Phi Epsilon, graduate Bus. Ed. fraternity.

The Secondary Elementary Club's biggest project for this year was their Christmas Party for underprivileged children. For their own members they had various speakers and panel discussions at meetings held once a month. Membership in the Club is open to those students registered in Teachers College programs as preparation for Elementary, Junior High, or Senior High School education. The aims of the group are to promote better relations between faculty and students as well as to acquaint students with college programs and the professional fields.

An annual open house for high school seniors is held each spring by the Home Economics Club which draws its membership from the four classes of Home Ec. College. This and additional varied activities, including charity work, are planned throughout the year and are designed to create an interest in Home Economics and to unite the student body within the College. Dinners prepared by the members, a Christmas Party, and a fund-raising project for a scholarship to exemplify the purpose of the Home Economics Club.

The purpose of the Kindergarten-Primary Club is to provide opportunities for its members to achieve professional improvement and to enjoy professional fellowship. By helping care for the children at the Metro Christmas Party, by listening to top professional speakers, by preparing Thanksgiving baskets for needy families and sending supplies to an adopted basin area school, the Kindergarten-Primary Club provides many opportunities for its members to attain a better interpretation of teaching and its aspects.

Alpha Kappa Psi, founded in 1904, is the oldest professional fraternity in the field of business administration today. To be called to membership in Eta Chapter here at U.C., the student must be an upperclassman in the college of Business Administration, possess an excellent scholastic record, have outstanding and pleasing personal qualities, and be an active participant in campus activities. As part of its program to fulfill the aims of Alpha Kappa Psi, in broadening and assisting in the education of its members, Eta Chapter frequently brings distinguished and successful business men as speakers to address its dinner meetings. These men discuss both the specific, pinpointed problems in the business world and also some rather broad subjects, such as world conditions and their effects on business. The members of Eta Chapter further increase their knowledge of business and its methods and problems by going into the field to see business in action. In this way they get to see many business other than the one in which they have a particular interest. Naturally these men love conviviality as much as any other college boy, so they have reqular parties—just for fun. Alpha Kappa Psi can well be proud of the program it offers its members.

DELTA SIGMA PI

Founded at New York University in 1907, Delta Sigma Pi is the largest professional fraternity for commerce in the country. Its membership is composed of students in the College of Business Administration and in the Evening College of Commerce. The aim of the Delta Sigs is to foster the study of Business in universities and to encourage scholarship, social activity and the association of students for their mutual advancement by research and practice. The organization also attempts to promote closer contact between the commercial world and the business students. Each month the group hears speakers from the various business fields and tours near-by professional business concerns. They also see movies which pertain to commerce and related subjects. All is not work however, as is evidenced by the fraternity's well-filled social calendar. The important events of each year are The Founder's Day Dance, the Chapter Birthday Party, the Rose Dance and the annual spring picnic. Besides these though, the Delta Sigs enjoy many impromptu and informal parties typical of college life. A gain in popularity as reflected in the large increase in this year's membership marked 1952-53 as a most successful and satisfying year.

The group's program is planned for the purpose of fastering unity and co-operation among students of industrial design and professional designers through contact, by field trips to industrial plants and design studios and by obtaining speakers. The main effort is directed toward an affiliation with a professional design organization.

To satisfy the desire for an exchange of ideas and a means of promoting interest in present-day trends in architecture, the American Institute of Architects was founded at U.C. in 1945. A relatively new organization on campus, the Chemistry Club was established to stimulate interest in their field among chemistry majors in Liberal Arts. Associated with the American Chemical Association, the organization holds regular meetings at which are presented as speakers outstanding figures in the field of chemical development. The social side is not forgotten though, and the Club sponsors parties and picnics which provide a lot of fun for all.

The membership of Sigma Gamma Epsilon is drawn from among metallurgical students in the College of Engineering and geology majors in Liberal Arts. The group's primary interest is discovering and studying newly developed phases and techniques in the fields of geology and metallurgy. Besides trips to various appropriate industries, the group also sponsors several field trips each year which provide the members with interesting, first-hand experiences in connection with their particular fields of study.

HON. CADET COLONEL, DORIS DUERMIT

Under Colonel Demarco, PAS&T, and Colonel Young, PMS&T, UC's ROTC program has been helping to add to the ranks of our military leoders. All students share the old Army tradition of long hours of practice on the drill field, and all must master the organization of their respective branches. But, while the Air Force students have their minds on clouds, navigational aids, and flight theories, the Army men are learning the secrets of various weapons and tactical maneuvers. High points of the cadets' social life are the military balls and the election of an honorary cadet colonel and the fellowship of their honor groups.

PERSHING RIFLES

Pershing Rifles, a national military hanorary of the ROTC, has units on 102 college and university campuses. Co. E-I was established here on UC's campus in 1934. The purpose of the hanorary is to develop the highest ideals of the military profession, and to provide appropriate recognition of the high degree of military ability among the cadets of the senior ROTC units. Besides engaging in special military maneuvers and drills, the unit sponsors social functions and undertakes the training of the Honorary Cadet Colonel candidates.

SCABBARD AND BLADE

Scabbard and Blade, a national military hanorary faunded in 1916 at the University of Wisconsin, strives to train qualified young men in colleges and universities for positions af leadership in the military profession. Classes in military problems and tactics constitute the serious side of the group's functions. There is also a lighter side, however, highligted by the Spring Military Ball, co-sponsared by Scabbard and Blade and Pershing Rifles, at which time the Honarary Cadet Colonel for the caming year is introduced.

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY

Begun as a local honorary of the Air ROTC in 1947, the Arnold Air Society has achieved nation-wide recognition with chapters throughout the country. Membership in the society is restricted to outstanding cadets in the AF ROTC. The pledge training emphasizes the system of Air Force setup while the overall purpose of the group is to foster and expand interest among college men in the Air Force by means of educational meetings at which speakers and movies are used to present pertinent information.

RIFLE CLUB

The rifle range in the UC stadium is the meeting place for the Rifle Club members. These sharp shooters are anxious to hit the target every time to beat other members of the South Western Ohio League. UC's "big shots" are successful ones, since they win most of their matches. Providing fun, the Rifle Club offers an opportunity for proficiency in an important field. Besides being an active sport, rifling is good training for the future career of most college men—the armed services. Campus riflers enjoy beating their Xavier rivals the most.

GUIDON

Guidon, which was established at UC in 1934, is a military honorary that tries through lectures and discussions, to promote leadership, to foster citizenship, and to help its members gain a clearer understanding of the problems of national defense. Membership is open only to sophomore women who possess the high standards of scholarship, activities, and character set by the organization. Dressed in red coats, red hats, and blue skirts, members of Guidon usher at all university convocations; march in pre-game football ceremonies; and serve as campus guides during Collegiate Day. The group, which is the women's auxiliary of Scabbard and Blade, was served by the following officers this past year: Mary Jo Hucksoll, President; Margie Utrecht, Vice-President; Betty Knight, Secretary; and Betty Dieckman, Treasurer. Major Sevareid acted as military adviser of Guidon, which was founded at the University of South Dakota in 1926.

POLISHING THE BRASS

Religion is a phase of campus life by no means ignored at UC. The students, realizing that it is an integral part of their daily lives have tried to learn to give it its proper place in the rush of classes, activities, and recreation. As opinions are traded in everyday contacts, religion becomes an important topic of conversation. With representatives of many religious sects spending their college years together, it is imperative that, while beliefs and practices may differ, God be kept in the foreground as the guide and goal of each student.

Student Religious Council, which is composed of the religious organizations on campus, meets once a month to help foster better relations between the members of the various religious groups and to give a better understanding of different religious beliefs. Among its activities, the Student Religious Council sponsored the International Student Chest Conference and Religious Emphasis Week. They also planned the publication of a pamphlet describing the different religious groups on campus.

YOUNG MENS CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

"Fellowship" is a "well-watched" by-word with the members of UC's Y.M.C.A. Far from leaving it as just the key work in a statement of the Y's purpose, the men make fellowship the working principle in the Y program. In promoting and carrying out their purpose the Y presents an extensive and active program each year with phases designed to have appeal for all types of individual interests. The schedule of events for the year included, sponsorship of Freshmen Camp, weekly discussion group meetings, and social and athletic activities. The Y.M. joins with the Y.W. each year in sponsoring the Marriage Clinic, Christmas Yule Log Service, and several "Y" night social functions. Each Spring the Cabinet Retreat, again jointly sponsored, helps with groups to review the past activities and plan for the future.

YOUNG WOMENS CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Freshman Camp opened a very active year for the Y.W.C.A. One hundred freshman girls met campus "wheels", learned about UC activities, and enjoyed themselves at Indiana's Camp Lenmary. The Apple Polishing Luncheon, held the day before midterms, gave UC's coeds an apportunity to entertain their favorite profs. The Thanksgiving Service, the Yule Log Service, the Spring Retreat, the Marriage Clinic, and the chapel services brought inspiration to "Y" members. The project of the Y.M. and the Y.W. for the year was to better student-faculty relationships. Students and professors gathered informally to discuss today's problems. Study and project groups completed the Y's adequate program. Members chose groups to attend once a week throughout the year. Mrs. Lynn Gotshall, executive secretary of the group, advised and assisted the cabinet in making the year a successful one.

HILLEL FOUNDATION

Hillel Foundation was established several years ago as a religious organization and center for Jewish students at the University. The group provides these students with the opportunity to participate in and enjoy religious, social and cultural activity. Religious services are planned and conducted by the students every Friday evening in H.U.C. Chapel. Special holiday services are also held, as for example, on Chanuko in December, and on Purim in March. A wide program of cultural-educational activities offers play reading and discussion groups, dramatics, and creative writing. Among the most interesting of these were the political round tables and discussions preceding the elections last fall. Socially, the members enjoy the brunches, chess matches, and afternoon coffee hours at the Hillel House as well as parties and holiday dances.

NEWMAN CLUB

Every Friday evening finds the house at 3550 Clifton lighted up and alive with activity as this is the night of the Newman Club Open House. Under the guidance and leadership of Father William Franer, the club furthers better relations among the Catholic students at UC. The third Sunday of every month Newman Club members go to Mass and receive Communion together. Breakfast and a business meeting follow. Numerous and varied activities are held throughout the year. The main social events this year were the Fall and the Spring formals. Dancing in the Club's Starlight Room was always fun, and the fellows and girls really remember the wonderful experience of going Christmas Caroling together. Picnics and other affairs made this a very busy, enjoyable, and successful year for all Newman Club members.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Proudly occupying a new house at 2717 Clifton Avenue, members of Wesley Foundation have enjoyed social affairs and have listened to many interesting discussions throughout the past year. They have participated in and sponsored a variety of projects including a banquet, a fall camp, weekend retreats, and a Christian Witness Mission. At the same time they have endeavored to follow the purpose of the organization, which is to provide fellowship, worship, and service opportunities, by supporting the group in which individuals strengthen one another in Christian living.

GAMMA DELTA

During the past year Lutheran Gamma Delta, which is a campus-wide arganization, held twa meetings every month under the able guidance of Reverend M. Ilse, religious adviser, and Dr. Hilmer and Mr. Krueger, who served as faculty advisers. Their pragram for the year included planned Bible discussions and various social affairs. The graup, which was founded in 1934 by the Lutheran Church to promote fellawship among students of this faith, also participated in the Religious Emphasis Week program of the University.

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK

Religious Emphasis Week, sponsored by the Student Religious Council, is established to "help each individual find a deeper spiritual and intellectual dedication to God, that he may enrich his own life and the lives of his fellow man." This year, November ninth through thirteenth was set aside for this purpose. Every day there were seminars, bull sessions, luncheons or other similar activities which brought the students and speakers together for serious and interesting discussions. On Monday there was an all-University Convocation, and on Tuesday the Greeks and Independents participated in the program. The speakers represented various religious faiths. "Where Goest Thou?" was the theme of this week. Serious interest in the program was shown by the active participation of UC students.

The fraternity manages not only to plan their numerous campus activities, but to arrange various social activities. At the Honors Day Convocation an award is presented to the most outstanding freshman in the band; at the annual Spring Concert the group announces whom they have elected as an hanorary member. The parties, picnics, and hayrides of the fraternity camplete their social schedule.

VARSITY BAND

An integral part of all football games is the rousing music of the band. Men and women from all the colleges on the Burnet Campus and students from the College of Nursing, the College of Music, and the Conservatory combine their talents to add music and color to the UC football and basketball games.

After many hours of practice and drill, often in terrible weather, the band went on the field to present their half-time show for all the football games. The band also went to Cleveland with other Bearcat boosters to help cheer the team on to a thrilling migration day victory. At half-time during the Miami game the band presented its charming new sponsor, Mary Ann Keller. A smaller pep band also helped cheer Bearcat Cagers.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club this year after welcoming the new and old members settled down to a stimulating season. They sang, among other places, at the Christmas open house in the Alms building and for the University faculty at one of their meetings. The annual convention at the Netherland Plaza was a cause for much preparation and excitement. After the new year the club worked on many new and modern numbers for their annual spring concert. Presented were such numbers as Voix Celetes, Into the Night, Dark Water, and Salvation is Created. Highlights of the concert were production numbers such as the Creation by Scott, done with dramatic presentation, Ballad for Americans, and Dance Africaine, presented with modern dance.

DIRECTOR WILLIS BECKET

The director this year was again Mr. Willis Beckett. His able direction and selection of the numbers made possible an almost completely new repetoire. The members will always recall the torrid pace set by Mr. Beckett to complete the numbers. In the rehearsals a spirit of fun and enthusiasm always prevailed.

The Glee Club Board is composed of the most active members of the club. They plan all the engagements and the annual spring concert as well as the yearly banquet at which keys for the three year members are awarded. At the same time the new officers for the coming year are announced.

Included on the board are the president, vice-president, secretary, and director of the guild, along with the business, stage, and production managers, and a member at large. The activities of the board include helping the director select the plays, directing the elections of the guild officers, selecting students for keys and awards, and arranging for the famous cast parties that follow each stage production. The program for this year featured four stage productions, consisting of a musical, a drama, a comedy, and children's play; a very successful city-wide drama convocation for high school students; and several Carousel theatre productions, given in the round.

LAYING THE GROUND WORK

In many ways the publications of any school are its best history books. They record its activities and progress in every direction through their photographs and copy. At UC the Cincinnatian fills the history book assignment while the News Record represents the lifeline through which all current happenings flow to students. Profile and Co-Op Engineer provide the opportunity for the expression of individual talent creatively or on technical subjects.

BOARD OF PUBLICATIONS

Although an extremely important organization, the Board of Publications is seldom commended for its work. Helping to determine the policies of the various University publications is but part of the general governing duties of this student-faculty board. This committee is composed of the editors and the business managers of the News Record, the Profile, the Student Directory, and Cincinnatian, and their faculty advisers. Every year it is their task to select the editors and business managers of these campus publications for the following year. They are aided by the recommendations from retiring publications heads and staff votes. Their never ending duties are allowed to become social only once a year when they present the annual Publications Banquet, featuring individual staff awards.

NEWS RECORD

Most UC students are unaware of all the work that has to be put into the News Record to provide them with the latest news. Every Monday the staff starts the paper by writing and typing the copy. However, the whole job is far from complete when the offices are closed that night, because the students must proof it. Since the poper is only partially supported by student activity fees, the business staff must sell, set up, and bill ads. Even after completing each edition the staff does not forget it, since it meets to discuss and criticize it for future improvements.

Founded in 1938 by a man well-known in the literary world, the Profile continues to produce new members for literary circles. Rabert Lowry, the author of "The Big Cage", "Casulty", and "Find Me in Fire", first formed the idea for this student literary magazine. To provide an outlet for creative writers among the students of UC was the original purpose of the Profile. Its four seasonal issues, written, edited, and published by the all-University staff, contain short stories, poems, humorous material, and a profile of an outstanding undergraduate. It also provides an index of the latest cultural events to hit Cincinnati. Until two years ago the publication had never contained a humor section. After a successful experiment with cartoons and a joke page, this humorous material was decided to be favorable to the magazine and is still included. The year of this experiment the Profile was edited by Ken Thompson who has just recently published his first volume of poetry and who is climbing the literary ladder of fame as did the magazine's first editor. As the Profile continues to be published, it will certainly produce many more worthwhile writers as in the past.

Numbers, Numbers, Numbers! Nightmares of numbers and names fill the dreams of members of the Student Directory staff until that publication finally comes out in early December. This book, giving names, addresses, phone numbers, colleges, and years of graduation for every student in the University, provides its staff with a lot of hard work and occasionally some headaches. Hours of alphabetizing, tabulating, and arranging lists produce one of the most widely used, and useful books on campus. Campus art geniuses have a hand in the publication as they vie for the privilege of doing the cover. Finally, the Directory is doled out just in time to be a help in addressing the long Xmas card lists everyone has made up and waiting.

PI DELTA EPSILON

Pi Delta Epsilan, which is a national journalism honorary was reactivated on UC's campus in 1950. To the students on publications, Pi Delt signifies high standards in the fields of journalism. This year, aside from Pi Delt's usual round of activities, the Cincinnati chapter played host to a national journalism convention which was held on campus. The convention had its serious side which was quite evident in the warkshops, but also there was plenty of entertainment provided for the out-aftowners. All students an publications participated in this convention. Awards for outstanding wark were presented at one of the convention's banquets.

Streams of students constantly pour into the Student Union Building both day and night. Not only is this building a place for relaxation, but also a place for work. The Grill, Lounge, Great Hall, Game Room, and Music Roam provide every type of social life. The Great Hall is used not only for a cafeteria, but for anything from dances to Mortar Board tapping. ODK taps in the lounge which also serves as the stage of the LSMFT shows. School is not forgotten as is proved by the many students bent over their books at the lounge desks. The Bookstore distributes all the tools to the many promising students. Extra-curricular activities flourish in the meeting rooms off of the Great Hall, while the campus publications grow in the basement's Publication Row. In addition the Student Union caters to faculty and administration as is evidenced by the faculty cafeteria and the Dean of Men offices.

UNION BOARD

UC's Union Board was organized to act as a general board of management as well as to determine the general policy of, and assume the responsibility for the effective operation of the Union. Two of their most important jobs are the preparation of the annual budget and the allocation of room space in the Union. Five students are elected by Student Council to membership in this group. At least one and not more than three of its members must be members of Student Council. Faculty members of the Board include the Vice-President of the University, who is a permanent member, and three other faculty members appointed by the president, one to serve a one year term, while the other two serve for two years. Meetings were held on the second Thursday of each month. Bill Nester served as Union Director. while Barbara Butsch was President of the Board, Don Mills, Vice-President, and Carol Taylor was secretary of the group.

PROGRAM COMMITTEE

Responsible for the smooth running of the social functions of the Union is the Program Committee, which works diligently to insure us many good times. A great deal of time is spent taking care of the never ending details which are connected with all large functions. Their efforts enabled us to enjoy offer game dances, Gilmanized football movies, and feature movies. L.S.M.F.T. Shows gave many an opportunity to demonstrate their talents in regular weekly planned entertainment. Hayrides, decorating parties, Coffee Hours, and other parties allowed out af town students and faculty to become better acquainted. These activities rounded out another successful year for the Union Program Committee — by which we all benefited.

Union activities provide a good part of student social life on campus, during hours and "over the weekend." All of these functions are student planned and student managed. Various Union committees are set up to divide the different phases of activity, and to give students the opportunity to work on whichever type he chooses. During school hours the Hopsitality Committee gives periodic Open Houses to introduce candidates or just to give students the chance to get together to enjoy the facilities of their Union. Music committee sponsors one of the most popular functions, LSMFT, the show which brings fine student variety acts to city-wide as well as campus-wide attention. These are just two of the many activities offered by the Union.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

Outstanding ability in one of the fields of collegiate life, scholarship, athletics, publications, social or religious leadership, music or dramatic arts is a necessity for a Junior or Senior man before he can be considered for membership in ODK. Not content to rest on their laurels, these men annually sponsor a leadership conference and Honors Day Convocation in conjunction with Mortar Board. They also take charge of the Dad's Day game, and present the Athletic Trophy and the Scholarship Trophy. This year the ODK's also sponsored the Basketball Banquet which was held on campus for the first time to enable the student body to attend. The purpose of ODK is first, to recognize high standards of efficiency and to inspire others to strive for conspicuous attainments; second, to bring together the most representative men of all phases of campus life; and third, to bring together members of the faculty and student body on a basis of mutual interest.

MORTAR BOARD

The ideals of leadership, scholarship, and service to the University were successfully carried out by this year's Mystic Thirteen Chapter of Mortar Board, the senior women's honorary society. In addition to co-sponsoring with Omicron Delta Kappa, UC's annual fall Leadership Conference, the Mortar Boards also held their traditional Smarty Parties, and supported Sigma Sigma Carnival, Honor's Day, and other campus events. In October, the girls garbed in their distinctive navy jackets and checked skirts sponsored Donut Day to raise money for a scholarship awarded to the high school senior woman best typifying Mortar Board ideals. Under the leadership of Margaret Duffy, March 13 again marked the traditional day of tapping when the Mystics donned their black robes, paraded about the campus chanting their song, and after a suspense filled morning selected ten outstanding junior women and one honorary faculty member for their 1953 pledge class.

ULEX

"Out of the evanescent mists of the empyrean, wafted on the billowy zephyrs, leaping the impermeable abyss to dash itself against the fairy softness, came the murmur, "Ah, ha! What hast thou there?" And incommunicably mournful sighed the answer, "Rasberrahs." And so, lined against the incarnadined nebulae, they faded and were gone, austerely permeated with the myrrhy fragrance — aspiring ever — failing never. Such was our mission." This somewhat ephemeral creed is the soul of Ulex, a group whose aims are perfectly clear. Ulex is composed of men who have served their university well — athletes and non-athletes — and desire to serve their alma mater still more through the spirit of a greater UC which is one of their guiding principles. After the magic of the call, "Ulex Selects" has worn off, the pledges entertain and beg alms in the grill. As seriousminded actives, men of Ulex are hosts to a group of orphans at a football game, and annually they honor an outstanding basketball player with a trophy. Being a member of Ulex is an honor and a responsibility that should be prized by every man at UC.

SIGMA SIGMA . . . .

CONSTITUTION SINCE 1898

The name of the organization shall be Sigmo Sigmo.

All matters tronsacted shall be for the good of the order and of the University of Cincinnati.

This constitution shall not be amended.

Sigma Sigma at UC has best embodied the spirit of College ever since 1898. It pledges upperclassmen for their outstanding contributions to the University and for their personality qualities and ability. Its main function and aim in life is to teach loyalty to the University and to encourage the growth of school spirit. Sigma Sigma also serves to bring together men from all of the organizations an campus so that it serves as samething of a clearing house for talent that may be utilized to UC's advantage. Some of the things that have benefitted UC in a material way in the past through the efforts of Sigma Sigma are a new scoreboard, a fund for spectator seats for the tennis courts, and a memorial in front of McMicken in honor of those men who served in the Secand World War. Down on Jefferson Avenue is the center of all the activity that Sigma Sigma generates on Campus. Heyck Hall is the home and the hiding place of the men behind the skull and crossbones. After football games each week Sigma Sigma holds Saturday afternoon open houses and through the year parties and various other festivities are held for the members. Sigma Sigma also organizes the pre-Miami game pep rally and tries to build still more enthusiasm for the game. As a parting gesture each year they give the "Mr. Bearcat" award to the most outstanding graduate; a great honor from a fine group.

ALPHA LAMBA DELTA

ROW 1—Garber, I., Jackson, G., Hofmann, G., Christman, J., Sweizak, A. ROW 2—Schirmer, C., Grischy, J., Parker, M., Masier, L., Hammelrath, S., Tegal, B.

To promote intelligent living and to encourage higher standards of learning is the purpose of UC's freshmen women's honorary, Alpha Lambda Delta. An average of at least 2.5 is required in order for a freshman girl to become eligible for membership in this organization. Active during their sophomore year only, these girls promote high scholarship and participate in various social functions. This year a tea was given in conjunction with Junior Advisers to acquaint freshmen women with Alpha Lombda Delta. An initiation banquet was given in April. On Honor's Day certificates are awarded to those girls who have made a 2.5 average throughout their college years.

PHI ETA SIGMA

ROW I—McCarmick, T., Gravenkemper, C., Rose, D., Narath, A., Ingberg, H. ROW 2—Boshford, W., Lim, S. H., Tennenbaum, J., Weiser, N., Budig, O. ROW 3—Redfield, J. A., O'Brien, J., Kuempel, J. L., Richter, H., Haas, R., Wachs, J.

This year Phi Eta Sigma again called the outstanding male scholars of the freshman class to membership. To qualify, freshmen must have an average of 2.5. Phi Eta Sigma was founded at the University of Illinois in 1923 and has come to be considered the highest honor a freshman can attain scholastically. Every year Phi Eta Sigma holds an initiation banquet for its new members. A spring smoker is also held for freshman men who are on the dean's list. Best known of the projects sponsored by Phi Eta Sigma is the printing and distribution of over two thousand "How to Study" pamphlets. Phi Eta Sigma climaxed its year by awarding plaques to three outstanding freshmen men.

SOPHOS

ROW I-Longstreet, W., Metzger, I., Bishop, B., Reece, R. ROW 2-Martz, G., Amand, B., McCormick, T., Baron, R., Brill, R. ROW 3-Katter, O., Wachs, J., Weaver, J., Waod, C., Fryburger, L.

Sophos, the freshman honorary, has as its goals to give recognition to freshman who participate most fully in the academic, athletic, and extra-curricular programs of the university; and to sponsor such activities as will lead to better morale of the student body. To this end Sophos activities included giving one of the most successful dances of the year, in which a Sophos Queen was crowned, and her court of four girls selected. This year for the first time these girls assisted the Sophos men in playing host to the visiting seniors on UC day. Along with other worthwhile projects, Sophos gave a scholarship to a needy student. In the spring a tapping ceremony was held in the main lounge at which time Dean Holliday, the founder, spoke, and the honored freshmen were presented. After the initiation a steak fry successfully ended the season.

METRO

ROW 1—Shore, F., Borteau, M., O'Brien, J., Goodfellow, R., Rinsky, G., Brockmeier, R. ROW 2—Kress, H., Kausch, M., Brill, R., Weiser, N., Hattendarf, J., Kautz, J., Hatterick, G. R. ROW 3—Cullen, G. W., Longstreet, B., Herron, C. L., MacVeigh, R., Pace, W. L., Sifferlen, T. P., Bowling, J.

Metro, one of the campus honor fraternities, each year taps men who have rendered outstanding service to the University. The men tapped must have at least a C average and be outstanding in activities on campus. The members take attendance at the convocations, and at the end of each year award cups to the fraternity and sorority who have rendered service outside the campus to the community. This year Phi Delta Theta and Alpha Chi Omega won the prized trophies. The annual Metro benefit show this year was very successful, with a local disc-jocky acting as master of ceremonies. Metro also gave their annual Christmas party for underprivileged children at which all had a wonderful time. Metro stands for a service honorary with a purpose, to advance school spirit and moral through student activities sponsored by the University.

PHI BETA KAPPA

Although it has but a few meetings a year, Phi Beta Kappa is probably one of the best known campus groups. Founded in 1776, the organization is the culmination of all the honors of four years of scholastic endeavor. To all Liberal Arts students the Phi Beta Kappa key is the symbol of highest attainment. This honorary not only considers scholastic achievement, but it requires that its members be of good moral character. The announcement of new members is made in March with initiation and a tea held in April and the annual Phi Beta Kappa dinner follows shortly after. These few but significant activities comprise the social program of this small, but select group for the year, but they are not soon forgatten. Membership in Phi Beta Kappa is an honor to be remembered for a lifetime.

Tau Beta Pi is generally considered the foremost honorary society open to students in the College of Engineering. Membership in the group is based primarily upon scholarship as members are selected from the upper eighth of the Junior class and from the upper fifth of the Senior class. Since the society began at UC in 1915 it has been influential in promoting a spirit of liberal culture in the Engineering College. Among its other activities Tau Beta Pi annually sponsors a Teacher's Evaluation program which answers a desire of practically every college student. Through the program students satisfy their desire to express their opinions of individual instructors by means of a student grading system of instructors. The results are carefully studied and the program frequently produces important suggestions for variations in teaching techniques.

It is indeed a high priviledge to be selected as a member of the University of Cincinnati's chapter of Delta Phi Delta, for this group's membership is limited only to those students with an above average art standard and a high scholastic record. UC's chapter was founded on this campus in 1941, and is known as the Alpha Zeta chapter of Delta Phi Delta, the largest national art honorary. The two most important projects of their year were the Annual Christmas sale that was held to earn money for a scholarship fund, and an Egg Nog Party for the College of Applied Arts. The group also sent delegates to the National convention in Minneapolis. Meetings were held twice a month in the Student Union under the able leadership of the President, Halton Kendall.

Students in the College of Architecture who have a scholastic average of "B" or aver, may become members of Scarab, a fraternity whose purpose is to improve architecture as a profession. Scarab's meetings give its members a chance to compare and discuss their various problems as well as gain from the personal experiences of others. All students in the Applied Arts College look forward to the sketch competition which Scarab sponsors annually, and which is one of the group's most important projects. Another aspect of Scarab's activities may be found in the traditional round of social affairs with which the organization hopes to make sure that each individual member has an adequate, well balanced, social and professional life. It is almost needless to say that Scarab has been outstandingly successful in accomplishing its purposes this year, just as in the past.

CHI EPSILON

Comparatively new to UC's campus, Chi Epsilon is a scholastic honorary for junior and senior civil engineering students. Chartered in 1949, the organization attempts to promote leadership, scholarship, and social life among its members. As in the past they collaborated this year with other engineering honoraries to plan various projects to benefit students of the civil engineering department. Together with ASCE they took an active part in sponsoring one of the most outstanding social events on campus, the annual "Honos Hop."

ETA KAPPA NU

Eta Kappa Nu is a national hancrary for junior and senior Electrical Engineers. Throughout the year they carry out many projects which benefit the E.E.'s. They sponsor an orientation which enables Freshmen to become acquainted with this field of study. The Faculty-Student Committee was again active in helping to iron out the problems of the students. On the lighter side were the sociol activities which included the Fall banquet, Honos Hop, and Senior Party. This combination of work and play added up to another successful year for Eta Kappa Nu.

OMICRON NU

The national honorary for Home Economics undergraduates, Omicron Nu, strives to encourage leaders to enter the various fields of this college. The UC chapter annually gives an open house for all high school students interested in Home Ec. To encourage excellence is the purpose of the award presented to the girl who has contributed the most to the College of Home Economics. New members are chosen on the basis of their scholarship and all-round ability and are initiated into Omicron Nu in the spring and the fall.

TAU PI EPSILON

Tau Pi Epsilon is an organization which endeavors to stimulate interest in the study of child care. The members, who are students in the College of Home Economics, hold meetings which offer the opportunity for discussion of the problems related to this field. High entrance requirements must be met before a girl becomes a member of this organization. The two primary requirements are that the girls be in the too ten percent of their class and that they have outstanding participation in activities within the college.

Election to Beta Gamma Sigma is recognized as a significant accomplishment for any business administration student. A national scholarship honorary society, Beta Gamma Sigma attempts to encourage and reward outstanding achievements in scholarship among commerce students. Members of this society, popularly knawn on campus as the Phi Beta Kappa of Bus. Ad., are elected from the upper four percent of the Junior class and from the upper ten percent of the Seniar class. As one of its more social activities, a banquet is held each spring to honor the students newly elected to the society. The chapter here at UC has the distinction of having several of its members from the faculty, Dean Ralph Burseik, Dean Francis Bird, and Professor Karas, in prominent positions in the national arganization of the society.

If you've been to a Coke Party in the last two years, you will recognize the members of this organization. After the last batch of parties was over, they were selected to reactivate the old Cincinnatus Society. Until 1937, the group was a service honorary to the University and the Alumni Association. Many of the Society's functions were replaced by the creating of the Office of Executive Alumni Secretary. For a new organization, the group is rich in history and renowned alums. Their purpose is to assist the Alumni Association and to form stronger contact between the undergraduates and the Alumni. In the fall, the group faced the task of setting the wheels of reorganization in motion. The first project was the Second Generation Tea, an annual affair sponsored for Alums whose children are now enrolled in the University. During the course of their membership, members are also invited to serve on any Alumni Association committee of their choice.

SORORITY LIFE

Rushing, rushing, and more rushing are the by-words for so-rority life on any campus, and UC is no exception. In one sense, of course, "rushing" brings to mind the two hectic weeks in September during which Sororities meet and pledge new members. Parties, tea, and entertainment are the order of the day for these two weeks and everyone survives tired but happy by Sunday Pledging. In its other sense "rushing" can be applied to the normal pace of sorority life all during the school year. Time whirls by in a flurry of school and chapter projects, campaigns, parties and dances, each full of fun and memories.

With the help of their adviser, Mrs. Rupp, Assistant to the Dean of Women, the girls formulate sorority policies of general campus application, and set up the standards of rushing, together with the machinery necessary to keep that complicated and important job in smooth operation each year. Besides these broad functions Pan Hell also has a hand in numerous projects throughout the year. They work closely with IFC in planning Greek Week and the Sing, besides adopting several activities of their own including correspondence with a war orphan, and monthly visits by individual sororities to Allen House Children's Home to entertain the children.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

President—Doris Duermit Vice-President—Ann Riechle Secretary—Ruth Evans Treasurer—Annette Kirstein

Founded at DePauw University in 1885 Alpha Delta established in 1919

The little Spanish house of Alpha Chi Omega sported a new kitchen and porch for fall this year. This addition and a new house mother gave the AX's a good start for rushing. The pledges more than proved their worth by copping both the ATO Sweepstakes Girl and the Sophos Crown. When school got under way the usual round of dinners and parties followed. At Christmas the girls entertained aut-oftown AX's home on vacation. Some of the parties that are still conversation topics were a square dance and a pledge old clothes party. It was not all fun and laughter for the wearers of the Lyre. Scholarship and activities played an important part in their schedule. In the spring a car caravan of AX's traveled up to Ohio State to attend their State Day, and learned of the plans for the National Convention to be held this summer in Canada. To wind up the year they held a very successful Spring Formal at North Bend Inn and a farewell party for the graduating seniors.

The ADPi's came out of the maze of rushing with a bangup pledge class which became well acquainted with each other over smorgasbord at the Alms. Before they could turn around in college, they had added a gleaming new trophy to the ADPi mantel for the most beautiful float at homecoming and were busy setting people to singing "Mona Lisa, Mona Lisa" during the Sophos campaign. Sophos was barely over before the Alpha Delts adjourned to North Bend Inn on Thanksgiving Eve for the pledge formal at which each pledge received a gift from active chapter. Despite the whirl of exchange dinners, hayrides and open houses throughout the year, the ADPi's still found time for a Christmas party, a spring formal and a new system of charm programs throughout the year. Another innovation was the pledge-active dinner each month. It was a memorable year for the ADPi's who were found active in Junior Advisers, Women's Senate, YWCA, publications and many others.

Rushing off with top honors at the ATO Sweepstakes, the Alpha Gams began a year of fun and hard work. The fun began in October with a special party given by the Actives in honor of the Pledge class. Soon afterwards everyone was hard at work on the Homecoming float and the Sophos campaign. The Pledge Formal which was held in early December gave the whole chapter a night long to be remembered. A few weeks later, at Christmas time, the Alpha Gams entertained their parents at an all-family party. The annual project to visit cerebral palsied children around the holidays helped again to make Christmas more cheerful for these children. Campaigning for Junior Prom, the initiation banquet, and the Kampus King dance filled up the social calendar after exams. With the coming of Spring everyone looked forward to the annual picnic and especially to the Spring Formal which made a perfect ending for a most successful year for the Alpha Gams.

As soon as pledging was over, the AOPi's celebrated with an Open House and tea for the parents of their new Pledge Class. Then they put Dad into the spotlight at the Pop's Banquet with the theme "My Pop is Tops." The Mothers had their day too, when they attended a tea given in their honor by the chapter. Of course, Founder's Day was not neglected, and open houses had their place on the social calendar too. Especially important to the AOPi's were their visits to the many other AOPi chapters in Ohio. Then naturally their sorority sisters returned the visits and really kept the girls busy. Campus activities and social life as well kept the AOPi's busy throughout the year. Highlighted by two formals their social calendar was well filled to provide entertainment and a thoroughly enjayable year for all the members. Climaxing the events of a gala year, the AOPi's honored their senior members with a festive breakfast on Baccalaureate Sunday.

The end of the formal rush season this year found the Chi O's pledging nineteen girls. With the encouragement of this success Chi O's started off the school year enthusiastically participating in U. C. activities. Among the campus "Elete" of the chapter are Mary Ann Jervis, corresponding secretary of W. A. A. and Arleth Dieckmann, city editor of the "News Recard." Chi O could also count three members of the "Y" Cabinet and several members on their respective College Tribunals. A big moment for the Chi O's this year was the selection of the Cotton King from candidates representing each fraternity on campus. The social whirl started with several informal fall parties, followed by the annual Chi O Revel given jointly by the Active and Alumnal Chapters. Actives and Pledges started holiday celebrating early at the Pledge Formal held the Friday before Christmas. Afterwards all crammed for exams, especially pledges to make their grades for initiation.

CHI OMEGA

At the closing of rushing in September nineteen new pledges joined the ranks of Delta Delta Delta and the Tri Delts began another year of fun and work. After the flurry of activity for Hamecoming and Sophas subsided, they highlighted their first semester's social calendar with the Pledge Formal early in December at the Hotel Sinton. The interest of the Tri Delts in campus activities was reflected in the number of their members who were active in their colleges and in campus organizations. Joan Cochran, on the Union Board, and Nancy Coleman, in Guidon and on Women's Senate are just two of the many who could be mentioned. Tri Delt functions kept the chapter pretty busy too, and the year possed bringing with it the Dad's Day Supper, when each member's guest at the house was her Dad, and the Founder's Day Dinner, which always brings everyone together again, actives and alums. The final function was the Pansy Luncheon to entertain all Senior women belonging to the Greek organizations.

This year Delta Zeta claimed twenty-one top pledges and their spirit and enthusiasm was well displayed when they won the award for the "Most Humorous Float" in the Homecoming competition. December 20 brought to reality the gala affair of the Delta Zeta Pledge Formal at the Netherland Plaza. This year members of Delta Zeta again held prominent places in campus activity. Outstanding among these were in the YWCA, WAA, and Pan-hellenic Council. Founders' Day was celebrated by a dinner at the Vernon Manor and proved to be a great success with Marilyn Cones being chosen as the "most outstanding senior woman." During the summer the Delta Zeta house was not without the presence of its bustling members. Instead it reflected the work of industrious interior decorators and their assistants, so that when the house was opened to rushees it sparkled with its new appearance. So combining social and campus activities the Delta Zeta's have made this an outstanding year on campus.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Evidence that "Theta Paves the Way" was proved to be true when, in September, twenty-five rushees decided to "Stop, Go Theta." The merit of the Pledge Class was increased by their success at the ATO Sweepstakes where they won first and second prizes for the pledge with the best figure. Fun and work was combined during the fall and so after working together on the float for Homecoming and on the campaign for Sophos, both actives and pledges enjoyed the Christmas Formal at the Glendale Lyceum on the Saturday before Christmas. The Thetas, together with the rest of campus, got a rude awakening from their holiday and vacationing spirit when they returned to school in January only to have to face semester exams. Everyone managed to struggle through them though. Founders' Day was celebrated, and Spring found the Thetas again trying to retain their possession of the Sigma Sigma Carnival Trophy and the title of Sweetheart of Sigma Chi.

The 1952 rush season was ushered in last fall after many weeks of redecorating had left its welcome mark on the bedrooms and kitchen of the K.D. house. The Pledge Class started off a prosperous year by winning the award for the "Most Beautiful Brunette" at the ATO Sweepstakes. School activities found Kappa Delts in many jobs as, for instance, Mary Mueller, in Mortar Board, was also kept busy as Photography Editor of the Cincinnatian while Billie Hall held the honor of being the 1952-53 PiKA Dream Girl. Besides the campus activities, Kappa Delts kept busy planning functions to fill their Sorority social calendar. The Founder's Day Banquet, Pledge Formal and Christmas Party filled important dates. All of the K.D.'s look forward to the coming vacation for more than the usual reasons this year. Then the 1953 Kappa Delta National Convention will find many of the girls journeying to Biloxi, Mississippi, bringing to a close another eventful year.

The notion that things "settle down" after the hectic two weeks of rushing proved to be just wishful thinking to the Kappa's this year. Rushing seemed to be just over when campus and social activities got into full swing. Early on the Kappa social program was their tea for the parents of their new pledge class, of whom they were very proud and with good reason. The Pledge Class started its fall activity by turning out their beautiful blue, star-topped float for Homecoming and by putting on a "Southern Campaign" complete with Mint Juleps which helped to get the Kappa Sophos candidate, Connie Grant, elected to the Queen's court. Afterwards, in rapid succession, came the Pledge Formal at Glendale Lyceum, the annual party for underprivileged children, and the weekend house party. A touch of excitement was added by an outbreak of measles at the house just before school was out for the Christmas holidays.

The SDT's and their new pledges kept pace with a full and busy schedule throughout the year. They started out in the fall with an open house to present the new pledge class. Added to the occasion was the introduction of their new House-mother, making it a perfect time for entertaining. Since the house had just been redecorated and new furniture had been purchased, the girls were rightfully proud of it. Then, of course, the Dad's wanted to see what their daughters had been raving about and finally got a chance at the Dad's Day Banquet. The Mothers had their turn too, at the Mother-Daughter luncheon in the Spring. A most exciting event was the night of the Sophos Dance when the theme "Count all the Charms About Linda" came to its climax with the election of Linda Miller to the court of the Queen. The final event of this full year for the SDT's was the Strawberry Breakfast honoring the seniors just before graduation in the Spring.

SIGMA DELTA TAU

"Hit Shows of Broadway" was the Theta Phi's rush theme, and twenty-one pledges had taken over their new roles as Theta Phi's when the final curtain fell. Their first 'performance" was cheering as Elaine Wilder was chosen runner-up for the most beautiful blonde at the ATO Sweepstakes. Later the actives had a terrific time at the party given for them by the pledges. A hilarious skit, "North Atlantic", was presented accompanied by much giggling and need for prompting to help recall some forgotten lines. The "stage crew" worked hard on the Homecoming float, and the whole cast turned out to campaign for Judy Leary, Theta Phi's candidate for Sophos. The campaign centered around "A Date With Judy" and a skit during open house featured Judy popping out of a huge telephone. Everyone considered the project a success when Judy was elected to the Sophos Court. In between "performances" the girls enjoyed "cast parties" in the form of dinners, open houses, and formals.

Before the school year even began the Zeta's had a head start on being in the spotlight. Their chapter won the Merit Award at the Sorority's National Convention held during the summer at Pasadena, California. In the fall twenty pledges were added to the ZTA chapter and immediately proved themselves by taking two trophies at the ATO Sweepstakes. The newly acquired trophies added just the right touch to the recently redecorated house. For another of their projects the Pledges decided to turn the tables for a change and make the boys on campus do some competing, so they staged the Zeta Pledge Prince contest and kept every male pledge an campus busy vying for the honor. The ATO's came out on top when Tom Fyffe was selected to wear the royal crown. In addition to these special occasions, a well rounded social program of exchange dinners, parties, and formals made this year an especially busy and rewarding year for all the ZTA's.

TRIANON

Trionon got off with a gala start this year, according to reports from their new pledge class. It was a Gypsy party that really convinced them; and they are still talking about how exciting it was. This year's social calendar for Trianon is evidence that this Independent group is right on the ball. After the gals had settled down to the routine of classes, and campus activity, they found real enjoyment in their group. In the fall they held a Mother-Daughter tea, honoring the new pledges. Holiday spirit was high for their Christmas party. It was followed by a joint party with the other Independent groups. After the strain of exams was over, most of the girls began to make their plans for attending the National Convention. This is an annual affair of prime importance to the members, for Cincinnati is the original chapter. The last event of the year, as in most campus groups, is a Senior Banquet, a fitting climax to a year packed with fun and excitement.

In the fall, thoughts of men, young and old, turn to rushing. Fraternity treasurers spend sleepless nights wondering and their brothers spend them wandering through a maze of parties. Dances, hay rides, beer parties, and every other type of entertainment possible are arranged for the rush men. After the smoky haze has cleared, the pledge appears, resplendent in his pot and pin — a new man. He suffers through his tasks and shares the fun of fraternity life; shining shoes, lighting cigarettes, going to parties and dances. In February, after grades are made he is prouder than ever in becoming "Active."

Again this year as in the past, Acacia boys were active in everything on campus from scholastic achievement to a well-rounded social program. Among some of their most notable social functions were the annual affairs, including the Hallowe'en Party, Valentine Party, Homecoming Party, Spring Formal, and of course, the never-ta-be-forgotten Pledge Formal, which climaxed the very successful rushing and pledging periods during the fall. After a lapse of a year. Acacia renewed the practice of holding an annual Christmas party for orphan children. This year Acacia also sent two delegates to its national convention which was held in Chicago. Still another highlight of the year was the Annual Founder's Day Banquet. Social life, however, did not limit Acacia's achievements as is evidenced by the members of honoraries who boast membership in this social fraternity from University Court.

ACACIA

This year Ohio Delta Lambda of Alpha Tau Omega is celebrating the Thirtieth Anniversary of the ald local's becaming a national chapter of ATO at UC. Many fond memories of both long past and recent years were recalled by alums and actives alike at the all day and all night birthday party. As in many past years, Burnet Woods came alive with the laughter and hi-jinks of the entire campus as quests at the annual ATO Sweepstakes. Later in the day there was dancing to the music of Johnny Long. The guest's were as a treated to a beauty contest in which Suzie Meyer of Alpha Chi Omega was elected ATO Sweepstakes Queen. Another of the traditional parties to entertain Tau's and their dates was the French Night Club Party. Other of the Taus' social highlights were the Christmas Formal and the Spring Dinner Dance. Following the lead established by ATO nationally, Delta Lambda's pledges participated in a Help Week during which they spent a week cleaning and painting the Findlay Street Community Center. The pledges also rejoiced in the election of Tom Fyffe as the Zeta Tau Alpha Pledge Prince.

Established on the basis of faith in democracy, the American Commons Club has completed its twenty-seventh year as an active organization at UC. In all their activities the men stress brotherhood, service to the University, and the fundamental principles of democracy. Initiating the year's social schedule was the Homecoming Banquet for the fraternity's alums. Following this welcome to old members, a pledge formal was given to welcome the new. The annual Spring Formal proved the climax for the many activities on ACC's calendar. The men also found that besides their studying they could find time to practice and participate in intramurals and other campus wide activities. Composed of many members who go on section, the fraternity has two sets of subordinate officers. They manage to maintain unity by celebrating the change of sections, and these extra efforts have achieved brotherhood for the American Commons Club.

BETA THETA PI

The Beta's opened their rush season with the usual bus trip. Later, everyone enjoyed a gigantic smorgasbord given by the alums. After rushing, the pledges were taken on a trip to all the Indiana Beta chapters. Beta pledges also took part in the "Y" Greek Help Day. The Beta's had a little trouble with the weather an their serenade, but everyone enjoyed it anyway. The chapter also enjoyed a wonderful evening at the Christmas formal. In the spring, the Beta hause became alive with girls and giggles as dates took over the whole house for a busy but pleasant week-end, which featured dinner, a dance, and lots of fun. The homecoming float and several parties a month filled out the Beta's social year. On the serious side, Beta actives had the top scholarship record on campus. The pledges and actives together assisted in the Christmas drive for toys to give to needy children. They also worked a day and gave their wages to the Hamilton County Welfare Association.

Many changes around their fraternity house made this more than just another year for the Delts. For the first time in the chapter's history the organization had a housemother, Miss Priscilla Brady. Also, there was an extensive redecoration program for the second and third floors of the house. These changes foretold a really big year as did the choosing of Jim Micheau as Chi O's Cotton King. The pledges will long remember the Pledge Formal held at the Glendale Lyceum in November, and the whole fraternity will never forget the Christmas Party at the house and the Spring Formal. Throughout the social whirl grades were not forgotten, either, and Delta Tau Delta was represented in several Honoraries. Campus activities and athletics also saw many Delts participating. Not only was the fraternity able to boast of brains, but they could claim brawn since many members of the football team could be seen wearing the Delt pin.

Uppermost in the minds of most of the Lambda Chi's for this past year has been the construction of their new house on Probasco Ave. This year's annual house functions marked a probable "last time" for each in the old house as they expect to be in their new home just in time to show it off for next fall's rushing. In planning for their house, the Lambda Chi's did not forget their other activities and interests, however, as was evidenced by their participation in campus activities, both as a group and as individuals. Social events also played a big part in the Lambda Chi program for the year. Informal parties and the Pledge Formal occupied the top of the list of social functions during the fall and just before Christmas the fraternity joined with Theta Phi Alpha to entertain a group of underprivileged children at a Christmas party at their house. Spring brought the Sweetheart Dance, and they also worked to repeat their previous success in building their Sigma Sigma booth.

The Phi Delts started out this year with a bang, namely the Phikeia Carnival, which is given for all fraternity and sorority pledges. As usual, everybody had a good time. REW saw the Phi Delts singing at the All-Greek Convocation; at Xmas they gave a party at their chapter house for underprivileged children. At the Homecoming Game, their efforts to make a prize-winning float were rewarded by their being awarded the trophy for the Most Humorous float. The most unusual event of their social year is their She Delta Theta Party, which was held in February this year. At this function, which covers an entire weekend, the dates of the members went through a pledging period and an initiation, and emerged as members of the She Delta Theta fraternity. This weekend is concluded with a dance given for the She Delts. The above-mentianed parties are just a few of the many social events given this year by the Phi Delts.

PHI DELTA THETA

The Phi Kaps started the year off right this year with the third largest pledge class on campus, and every one of the pledges was really proud of his Phi Kappa pledge pin. They soon found out that exchanged dinners are fun (for the guy that doesn't have to wash the dishes). Everyone was so busy with midterms and exchange parties, campus activities and fraternity projects, that before anyone knew it, it was time for the pledge formal. After that everything happened in rapid succession, and the fellows were soon busy rushing to the phone to get a date with their best girls for the spring formal. Later in the year all the Ohio chapters of Phi Kappa met for the Province Ball and all the members agreed it was a huge success. Founders Day was another important event on the Phi Kap's calendar. The fellows commemorated it with a big celebration. The Phi Kaps chalked this year up as another terrific year.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

President—Jerry Tjoflat Vice-President—Jack Pecsok Secretary—Phil Hagedorn Treasurer—Bob Wright

Founded at the University of Virginia in 1868 Alpha Xi Chapter established in 1910

After the smoke of many rush parties had cleared, the Pi Kappa Alpha's found that they had quite a large and active pledge class. The pledges began their social year with a pledging party at the Virginia Ladge, and the highlight of the Fall was the Pledge Formal at the Glendale Lyceum. The pledges topped off all this fun with same well-spent time at the United Shoe Co., packing and moving crates of shoes for needy children under the sponsorship of the Campus "Y." The whole chapter got together on Halwe'en for a gala party with costumes and dates. As always, the section-change parties were a great success. In addition to these, the PiKA's enjoyed a wonderful Christmas hause party—turning their home into a nightclub for the occasian. The year was gaily climaxed with the Spring Formal, the opening event in the week-end party during which dates taok over the house.

PI LAMBDA PHI

After completing the usual round of pledge parties, the Pi Lams found themselves preparing for another year and its calendar of social events and campus activities. Their Homecoming party served not only as a reunion for the alums, but also as a means of bringing the old and the new members together for the first time. Early in December, the actives honored the pledge class, and had a good time themselves, at the Pledge Formal. In the spring, the fraternity held its second annual formal and climaxed the social year. It was then, also, that the new initiates actually became fraternity members. Despite an extensive social program, Pi Lambda Phi participated in several campus activities and organizations. They proved that they could work as hard as they could play when several members were elected to various honoraries on campus. By mixing work with play these men have proved to themselves that college is a true preparation for life and the problems it offers.

The SAE's returned to a newly redecorated house this fall from which they carried on a successful rushing program culminating in the pledging of thirty-five men at the Pledge Dance held at the house. Early in November, the Pledge Class, in keeping with the tradition, constructed, as their float for Homecoming, a grand piano with the theme "The Dance is Over Ohio U." and won the award for the most beautiful float in the fraternity division. The Sig Alphs solved the problems of how to decorate their enormous Christmas tree, which touched the ceiling of their two story living-room, by having a party to do it and then played host to a group of underprivileged children who played games and received gifts from Santa. A social program highlighted by the Gamdy Dancers Ball, the Shipwreck Party, and the Christmas Formal was brought to a successful close by the annual House Party in June when the members' dates took over the house for an entire weekend.

With the purpose of "fostering and maintaining the spirit of fraternity, mutual moral aid, and support" Sammies upheld the dictates of their constitution as they initiated thirty-two new members this year. Proving the success of these efforts was the Founder's Day banquet on November 24 at which the alums gathered for reunion with their old brothers. As the pledges progressed in activities, they learned the meaning of true manhood, democracy, and humanity. This the Sammies demonstrated by helping at the polls on election day and by donating to the blood bank. National Memorial Day, the first Sunday in May, pays tribute to all their members who served during the war. The social calendar did not suffer in the least either, as sports parties and the Pledge Formal started the social program in the fall and then in April the Sammies climaxed their year with the Orchid Formal which was incorporated with the Bi-Regional Conclave this year.

Sigma Chi has the distinction of having been the first fraternity established at UC, so this year when the Sigs commemorated their Seventieth anniversary as the oldest fraternity here an campus, they really celebrated. Highlighting the festivities for the year was a Homecoming Dance given by the active chapter in honor of the Alumni. The fraternity also celebrated all year with various parties and they did not neglect the usual exchange dinners and picnics, either. But the hit of the year was a pajama party held at Halloween which, everyone agreed, turned out to be hilarious. Besides all their other activities the Sigma Chi's found time to have benefit parties for underprivileged children during the Christmas season. J. C. Evans' New Year's Eve party brought the chapter together to welcome what the Sigs were sure would be an even better year for them. Finally at the Spring formal a wonderful anniversary year was culminated when they chose their Sweetheart of Sigma Chi.

SIGMA CHI

This was a busy and profitable year for the men who live in "The House with the Red Door." They returned this fall to redecorate their house and turn it into a bright and comfortable home. The social year began for the Sig Ep's with their pledge formal and this was tied in with their first week-end house party. Dates took over the house, then dinner, dancing, and fun established this as a fine idea for a tradition. In November, the Sig Ep's celebrated their Founder's Day with a galo banquet. Also on the social calendar was the Spring Formal, but the peak of the social year was the annual Queen of Hearts Dance. This dance was unusual in several aspects—it was open to the entire University, and it was held on campus. Of course, the Sig Ep's had their regular weekly parties during which their basement game room became a very busy place. The men of Sig Ep were represented on the football and track teams as well as in many honoraries on campus.

Those spirited Theta Chi's, a group of fellows who have risen rapidly in prominence since they were established on UC's campus, have become noted for their enthusiastic participation in practically all University functions. Particularly, they have been seen chalking up the scores in the intramural sports contests. Besides athletics the Theta Chi's shine in tribunals, honoraries, and other campus groups. The spirit of having a good time, is not lost in these men as was shown at their Pledge Formal in December, at the Christmas caroling and party, the Spring Formal, at the house parties, and throughout the year. They invaded the home of their Miami brothers, challenged them in football and returned home victorious. With this well rounded program of scholarship, activities, and athletics, the men of Theta Chi can justifiably look with pride upon their successful year and anticipate an even more successful one next year.

THETA CHI

TRIANGLE

Perhaps you heard the cheering section within the cheering section at the UC football games this past year. If so, you were witness to the campus spirit of the members of Triangle. This may have surprised you, knowing that this fraternity is composed entirely of engineers and architects, but you have only to attend one of their house parties to realize that these men know how to have fun besides knowing how to work hard. They are naturally closely affiliated with the Engineering College and in addition to their service to the University they are also found to be active in ODK, engineering honoraries and prafessional fraternities, Metro, Sophos, and many other campus organizations. One of their most successful enterprises was the donation of blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile which the fraternity enthusiastically supported. The year was rounded out by the Fall and Spring formals, a series of exchange dinners and other social activities.

The purpose of Aquaal, besides helping to balance the education and extracurricular activities of its members, is to promote good fellowship, mutual understanding, and cooperation among its own group, and to increase the tolerance and mutual interests between all groups and creeds on campus. Aquaal is the youngest social organization for men on the UC campus, and, although still a growing organization, Aquaal has kept pace with the other social organizations. The major events of the year included the Founder's Day banquet and the co-sponsorship, with the Women's Independent groups, of the UC Independents' Week. Interspersed between these, other parties, dances, dinners, and participation in UC social activities provided relaxation and plenty of enjoyment for Aquaal's members. These were just a few of the activities which marked Aquaal's second successful year at UC and gave promise of even better years to come.

ASSOC. IND. STUDENTS

The Association of Independent Students, better known on campus as simply A.I.S., opened their rush season with a series of informal parties and picnics for the incoming freshmen. While the general bustle and confusion of beginning school was in full swing, the events for each of the coming months were planned. Meanwhile, A.I.S. also took an active part in the major campus functions including the ODK-Mortar Board Leadership Conference, Religious Emphasis Week, the Fire Prevention Contest, and in addition, selected their candidates and made campaign preparations for the elections of the Sophos and Junior Prom Queens and the Sig Ep Sweetheart. The highlight of the A.I.S. social program was the party on the Johnson's Party Boat which took the A.I.S. members and quests on a leisurely cruise up and down the Ohio. Like any other group of its kind, A.I.S. is an organization of enthusiastic young college students who provide for themselves a full program, rich in fellowship and opportunity for leadership in campus activities.

This year the girls on the Dorm Council worked hard to make Memorial Dorm seem like a home away from home for all UC out-of-town students living in the dorm. The work of the Council was directed by Pat Callison, president; Harriette Flary, Vice President; Nancy Foxworthy, Secretary; and Alberta Pollard, Treasurer. The needs of every student in the dorm are considered by the Council which is composed of officers from Memorial Dormitory. The students claim that the Dorm Council, which is always ready and willing to help, is a wonderful place to which to bring their problems and troubles. With the excellent guidance of the Dorm Council it does not take the girls long to feel at home on the campus and in the dorm.

"ARRIVING OR LEAVING?"

"HOME WAS NEVER LIKE THIS!"

"A home away from home"—that is what Memorial Dorm is for UC's out-of-town women students. The dorm girls come to UC from all parts of the world, you will find, near and far—some come from just a few miles outside of Cincinnati while others are from as far as Europe and South America. Despite their very different backgrounds, the girls soon find living in the dorm brings a lot of fun and new friends with many interests in common. A usual pastime is for everyone to gather in someone's room and just talk until the wee hours—sometimes forgetting about those quizzes they should be studying for. Their regular social calendar includes the parties, teas, and annual formals everyone at the dorm is sure to enjoy.

MEN'S INTER-DORM COUNCIL

With the many out-of-town male students taking up their residence in the various UC dorms—Clifton Dorm, Dorm D, Triad Dorm, Dorm C, and lately, French Hall—there arose the necessity for some sort of method to unite these groups. Consequently, the Men's Inter Dorm Council has, for the past several years, taken upon itself the responsibility of uniting the men's dorms by co-ordinating and supervising their activities, by promoting cooperation among them and by attempting to make dorm life as pleasant as possible for everyone. Each dorm has officers to handle the business of its individual activity but representation on the Council reflects the interest of these dorm groups in over-all dorm activity.

The 1952 season was one of the most successful in gridiron history for the Bearcats. Ably coached by Sid Gillman and his staff, the 'Cats stumbled only twice in ten games, winning eight, losing one, and tying one. Notable was the fact that, for the first time since 1946, both Xavier and Miami fell to the Cincy attack. The team, in point of numbers, was one of the smallest in recent years; but morale was very high and Captain Glen Sample's leadership ranked with the finest ever seen at Nippert Stadium.

ROSSI HITS THE MARK AGAIN

U. C. 25, DAYTON O

The Bearcats opened their season by beating the Dayton Flyers with unexpected ease. Striking with finesse and power, the 'Cats won going away, in spite of the fact that Dayton was supposed to have its best team in years. The heralded aerial duel between Gene Rossi, the smooth Cincy passing ace, and Frank Siggins, Geno's opposite number on the Flyer eleven, failed to materialize; Rossi had a sensational night, but Siggins was rushed hard by the rugged Bearcat defensive line and several of his hasty tosses were intercepted. The team as a whole displayed midseason poise, with Jack Delaney and Glen Dillhoff starring on offense and Glen Sample and Terry Boyle leading the defensive unit.

CONCILLA GOES OVER TACKLE

DELANEY GRABS A TD PASS

U. C. 13 - KANSAS STATE 6

The Bearcats received their first scare of the young season as they eked out a victory over K-State at Nippert Stadium. The 'Cats lacked scoring punch and fumbled often, but they finished the game with a wide statistical margin over the visitors. The last quarter furnished most of the excitement as the invading Wildcats narrowly missed tying the score. Jack Delaney tallied both Bearcat touchdowns, while Glen Sample played a major role in stopping the visitors' split "T".

U. C. 14 - TULSA 14

The Cincy Bearcats, in a hard fought game, tied the Tulsa Hurricanes in Skelly Stadium at Tulsa. The defensive team turned in a great effort in holding the slam-bang Hurricane attack to a minimum of damage, while the offense showed plenty of moxie by tying the game when a loss appeared certain. The Cincy cause was nurtured by the fine blocking of Don Grammar and Bill Shalosky and good defensive work by Don Fritz. Tragedy marred the contest when Floyd Anthony suffered a badly broken leg.

GRAB THAT JUDD

The Bearcats entered the 1952 renewel of their annual battle with the Musketeers as heavy favorites; but the end of the game found them very happy to settle for a six point win. The Muskies' served notice early that they didn't intend to be doormats by taking the opening kickoff and marching 77 yards for a score. The 'Cats quickly tied it up; a little later they went ahead for good; but it was an inspired Xavier eleven against a lackluster UC squad, and the game was in the fire until the final gun went off. Most of the trouble, from the Cincy standpoint, stemmed from the fact that Gillman's defensive team experienced little success in their efforts to stop Bobby Judd, the brilliant Musketeer half-back. In the end, however, Judd's performance wasn't quite enough to offset UC's all around class, and the 'Cats won out. Glen Dillhoff and Jack Delaney sparkled on offense far Cincy, while the defense got an extra boost from Dick Goist and Jack Snyder.

U. C. 27 - WABASH 7

The Bearcats ran their unbeaten skein to five at the expense of Wabash's Little Giants at Nippert Stadium. While there was little in the showing of the Bearcats to inspire confidence on the part of the McMicken supporters, Gene Rossi's passing plus the running of Jack Delaney, Dick Pardini and Irv Turner turned the tide in the Bearcat favor.

U. C. 41 - W. RESERVE 2

The Bearcats, showing flashes of good form in the process, smothered the hapless Red Cats of Western Reserve at Cleveland. Excellent passing by Gene Rossi and Don Zajicek combined with good running by a bevy of UC backs to make the victory look easy. Johnny Mooth celebrated his return to the wars with some fine punting, while the defense was unextended.

KENTUCKY 14 - U. C. 6

After letting the Bearcats push them all over Nippert Stadium for two periods, Kentucky's rebounding Wildcats cashed in on two lightning-quick scoring thrusts in the second half to gain a 14-6 nod. In suffering its first setback the Cincy club twice failed when inside the UK 10 and lacked the clutch play of the victorious Wildcats.

Midway in the third period Kentucky broke the scoreless deadlock with an electrifying TD. Herb Hunt passed to All-American End Steve Meilinger, who then sprinted 50 yards to complete the 74 yard maneuver. Another Hunt pass set up UK's clinching TD in the final stanza. Gene Rossi threw to Glen Dillhoff for the lone Cincinnati marker.

U. C. 41 - OHIO 7

The Red and Black grid machine topped off the festive Homecoming activities by thoroughly drubbing a good Ohio U eleven, 41-7. From the start the Cats left little doubt as to the outcome as they built up a 14-0 lead in the first 12 minutes of the contest. Two markers in both the third and fourth stanzos iced the game for Cincy crew.

FOOTBALL BALLET

In scoring their second Mid-American Conference win, the Cats unleashed a powerful offensive attack, which mixed excellently its running and passing plays. The Cincy offense accumulated 444 yards total offense, while the sturdy "Chinese Bandits" limited the Bobcats to 197 yards. OU was Cincinnati's sixth victim against a loss and a tie.

Showing no respect for rank, Sid Gillman's bruising Bearcats buried a mediocre Washington and Lee eleven under a 54-0 score. While a cheering hometown crowd delighted in the rout, the Red and Black registered the most points scored by a UC eleven since 1935. The Cats' consistently potent overhead attack was augmented by a sparkling ground game, each phase of the Cincy offense accounting for four TDs The offense made 30 first downs and 604 yards.

U. C. 34 - MIAMI 9

The Bearcats made Thanksgiving a most enjayable holiday for Cincy fans as they beat their old enemies from Oxford for the second year in a row. The Redskins hit town with a "best ever" tag an their offense and an undefeated record; but they went back to the reservation a sadly chastened crew. Victory eluded them because their offense moved when it didn't caunt and fumbled when it had to move. Add a very leaky Redskin defense to this picture, and the lapsided scaring margin is easily explained.

The UC affensive line gave a faithful imitation of Murder, Inc., as it cruised down-field with halfbacks Dam Del Bene and Jack Delaney trailing in its wake, eating up big hunks of yardage en route. Gene Rossi failed to set a new school passing record, but he consoled himself by rambling 74 yards behind a huge herd of blackers for the clinching touchdawn, his first of the year. Glen Sample, playing an a badly injured leg, was an inspired leader, while Dick Gaist and Terry Bayle put iran in the defense.

CHEERLEADERS & BAND SPONSOR

No football or basketball game is complete without the arm-waving, pep-stirring cheerleaders. Through the tireless efforts of this select group UC students back the Bearcats with organized enthusiasm and support. This year's varsity cheerleading squad included Marvin Cohn, captain, Eleanor Miller, Phyllis Kress, Valerie Leucht, Valerie Crandall, Thomas Eichstadt, Thomas Woodworth, and John Jordon.

The half-time feature of the traditional UC-Miami clash is the presentation of the new band sponsor. This junior woman is chosen by the band members from among candidates representing women's social organizations. Mary Ann Keller was chosen by the band this year and next fall, along with the drum major, she will lead the Bearcat band. Haven Jones was band sponsor for 1952-53.

The Cincinnati Bearkittens climaxed their successful seasan with a stirring comeback win over the Miami Frash 28-26, Saturday, November 22, at Nippert Stadium. The 'Kittens, boasting a fine passing attack and a grinding ground game, finished their seasan undefeated. In games previous to the Miami tilt the UC Freshmen overpowered the yearling squad of Dayton, 26-12, and the Marshall JV's, 21-0. Heavily penalized, the 'Kittens were only able to gain a 7-7 tie against the Ohio. U. Frosh.

This year, as per usual, the Freshmen were ably coached by Bill Schwarberg and Stan Klimszak. The squad was very small in paint af numbers, but on an individual basis it was literally loaded with talent. Quarterback Orville Murphy proved to be an excellent passer and ball handler, and his running and defensive work were very good. Bob Kozel and Ted Finneseth also showed plenty af promise in the backfield. Stars on the line included Gene McCann, Jim Grooms, Bob Jewell, Ferd Maccioli, Vic Bellisari, Bill Janke, and Damon Kent.

Victory is always sweet, but for top sugar content a win over a traditional rival rightfully takes the cake. This year the 'Cats had their sweet cake twice as they took both Xavier and Miami into camp. When you consider the fact that this two way miracle had failed to transpire since 1946, the reason for the jubilance in the locker room scenes elsewhere on these pages becomes evident. Let us all hope that this splendid situation repeats itself indefinitely.

MOEVES CAPTURES LOOSE BALL

LOOKS LIKE A JUMP BALL

George Smith inherited a coaches nightmare in his first year at the helm of the Bearcat basketeers. Facing him was the task of molding a group of high spirited but inexperienced men into a basketball team which would have to exchange baskets with some of the toughest teams in the country. Bearcat fans hoped the season would show indications of a basketball power at Cincinnati in the not too distant future.

The guard positions seemed to be the key to Bearcat hopes during the season. Here Smith had the veterans Bobby Rain, Fred Moeves, Joe Okruhlica and Ron Surface to call on for duty. Steady Bill Lammert returned at one forward while Smith planned to alternate Larry Imburgia and capt. Tom Osterman, two excellent performers before knee injuries slowed them down, at the other forward post. Jack Twyman and Dick Vogele were to divide pivot assignments.

FIELD GOAL BLOCKED

The Bearcats opened their season on foreign floors with two MAC teams as the opposition. They kicked the lid off at Kent, Ohio where 22 points by Bill Lammert weren't enough to avoid a 72-66 loss to Kent State. The Basketeers tasted victory for the first time two nights later when they defeated Western Reserve 71-61 at Cleveland.

In their first home game the Bearcats encountered the highly regarded Hill-toppers of Western Kentucky. Although they lost by one point, Coach George Smith's young team showed plenty of spirit in coming from far behind to make a game of it. The 'Cats evened their season record at 2-2 in their next game by beating Tennessee 78-74.

The Red and Black cagers were one of eight teams invited to play in a Christmas week tournament at Madison Square Garden. Although Bill Lammert played excellent ball the Bearcats were unable to stave off a 75-60 loss to Manhattan. The next day found the 'Catslosing a consolation game to La Salle 86-81. La Salle was rated the nation's best team at the time.

Larry Imburgia's 30 points nearly sparked the 'Cats to a major upset as they lost to a high ranking North Carolina State quintet by a 77-72 score. Following this Cincinnati lost the first of its two games with Xavier, the Bearcats arch rival from across the city. The 'Cats staged a late rally, but too many men fouled out and they dropped the 81-78 contest.

Defeating Western Kentucky at home is something rarely done. Thus it was a surprise to no one that the Bearcats again bowed to the Hilltoppers, this time by 84-76. Jack Twyman was UC's standout, as he was at Pittsburgh the next time out when he scored 25 points even though Cincinnati went down to defeat at the hands of Duquesne 93-76.

The Bearcats won their third game of the season and their second MAC victory when they used excellent team work to defeat Western Michigan by 76-67. In their next game the Red and Black dropped a close one to De Paul 68-67. The game turned out to be one of the most exciting played during the year and continued the 'Cats habit of losing big games by small margins.

One of the highlights of the season was UC's defeat of Duquesne 72-69 at Cincinnati Garden. This was by far Bobby Rain's best game at UC as he scored the Bearcats' last nine points to climax a come-from-behind struggle against the Dukes. Cincy made it two in a row for the first time in the season with a 78-64 triumph over Ohio U.

Miami's Redskins roared into the Garden and scalped the Bearcats 96-75 in one of the season's worst defeats. The Red and Black was simply unable to cope with the unerring marksmanship of Miami's fine team. Toledo set aside UC hopes for an NCAA berth as the handed the basketeers their third MAC setback 81-74.

Western Reserve gave Cincinnati a breather as the Bearcats won pretty much as they wished 88-72 in a game played in the UC gym. Following this the Bearcats, minus the services of Fred Moeves and Larry Imburgia, lost a bitterly contested 70-68 game to crosstown rival Xavier. It was the first time that a Xavier team had been able to beat Cincy twice in one season.

A return engagement with Western Michigan at Kalamazoo found the Red and Black on the long end of a 92-77 score. Two nights later the Bearcats made it two in a row for the second time in the season as they handed Ohio U. a close 75-73 defeat at Athens. In both of these games the victory was obtained by good teamwork and headsup play.

The improved play of the Bearcats continued to show as they won their third straight, defating Kent State 94-63 and thus gained revenge for the loss they suffered in the apening game. Sweeter still was the revenge the 'Cats got as they beat Taledo 81-79 at Taledo. It was their fourth straight win, all at the expense of MAC foes.

North Carolina State ended the win streak by walloping Cincinnati 100-64 at Raleigh. The Bearcats bounced back, however, and ended the season on the sweetest possible note as they defeated tournament bound Miami 78-76 on the Redskin's home floor. It was by far the best effort of the season for the 'Cats, and it gave UC rooters hope for the future.

SWIMMING

Coach Tiny Pfieffer, with the absence of key men due to graduation, had trouble finding a winning combination for his UC mermen. After meeting Kent State in their opening encounter, the mermen traveled to Bowling Green where Bill Morris looked particularly impressive. The mermen returned home only to meet a strong Louisville team and were defeated. In their final encounter, the Red and Black traveled to Miami where once again they were sunk. Regardless of this year's outcome, the fine swimming of Bill Morris, Dick Robinson, Harry Gamble, and Jon Kessler show that Cincy has better days coming. The graduating seniors are Capt. Bill Renner, Bob Fogin, and Jim Trefzger, all of whom proved to be the foundation of the team.

Outstanding duelists for the Cincy team were lliff capturing the Foil and Sabre, and Shaw taking the Epee.

RIFLE TEAM

The Bearcat marksmen, lead by Bob Welti, are on the range aiming for a record. The team composed of such sharpshooters as Telford, Buhrmaster, Meyer, and Silber are showing their high caliber. Caach John Beckel will again be at the helm in 1953 rounding his Red and Black Baseball squad into winning form for their first game with Wayne College. He will be counting on several returning lettermen to provide the power and defense for the new season. Center and Left Field will be wide open due to the loss of the club's batting champs, Joe Havlovic and Jim Holstein.

BASEBALL

The 1952 Bearcat Baseball Team under the quidance of Coach Johnny Beckel finished a rough year with a season mark of 5 wins and 11 setbacks. UC got off to a flying start by defeating Western Reserve 10-5 in the season opener. Other victims averpowerd by the 'Cats were Wayne University, Morehead State, Miami and Toledo. The Red and Black defeated Miami 14-5 after bowing to them 5-4 in their previous encounter. Bob Rain and Jim Steele tied for pitching honors with I win and I lost record. The batting leaders for the 1952 campaign were Joe Havlovic who pounded out a lofty .415 batting average. and Captain Jim Holstein with a .368 average. Holstein also led his teammates in the most runs, hits, and RBI departments throughout the rugged season.

TENNIS

The 1952 tennis team got off to a very slow start as it lost its first six matches. Then the squad did an about face and won 10 out of the remaining 11 matches on the schedule. The season record thus wound up as a respectable 10-7. The Cincy racquetmen made UC fans happy with this record by making a clean sweep over arch rivals Miami, Kentucky, and Xavier.

CAPT. DAN SCHLACHTER, COACH GEO. MENEFEE

Coach George Menefee faced a monumental task as the tennis team started the 1952 season. To be specific, Menefee had to fill, or try to fill, the shoes of Tony Trabert, the 1951 National Intercollegiate Singles Champion. Tony was in the navy, and his loss was felt keenly, to say the least. Nevertheless, the season turned out to be more than an average success. Victories were recorded over Xaxier, Kentucky, Miami (O.), Marshall, Purdue, Western Michigan, Detroit, and the alumni; losses were to Kalamazoo, Indiana, Miami (Fla.), Jacksonville Naval Air Base, Rollins and Florida. The string of losses in Florida came at the start of the season when the southerners out conditioned the Cincy team. Bud Igel, Carl Gross, Bob Qualey, Jerry Gilbert, and Bob Mault carried most of the load; Igel was the top winner in singles for the year while Gross appeared in the most doubles victories.

GOLF

COACH GEORGE SMITH, CAPT. PAUL KRUMMEL

A spring sport with a lot to offer is golf, coached by George Smith. Lost season the UC golf team competed in dual matches with some of the best college golf teams in the country. Highlight of the season was a Florida tour which saw the Cincy golfers matching woods and irons with Rollins College, the University of Florida, and the University of Miami. For the season the niblickers had a record of 3 wins and 6 losses. The team also took part in the Mid-American Conference Tournament, finishing second, and in the Ohio Intercollegiate Tournament finishing sixth. Captain Paul Krummel averaged a shade under 75 to lead the team, while Cliff Rhein, Bill Forbrigger, and Don Kruse all had respectable records for the season.

If all the teams at UC had records to equal that of the Sailing Club, Cincy partisans could be well satisfied. The sailors tried the winds in competition with schools from the Big Ten and other midwestern universities, and they were so successful that they wound up the season ranked third in the midwest. Participating in 14 major regattas the Sailing Club racked up 2 firsts, 5 seconds, 3 thirds, and 2 fourths. In addition to this the girls team took second in the All Girl's Championships for the midwest. This fine record was achieved over a season that extended from April to December, and the competition was in dead earnest all the way. These facts are in startling contrast to the more-orless widely held opinion that the Sailing Club serves only as an excuse for a sort of semi-continuous party. In its field the club has reached a high position and has reflected more credit upon UC than most people realize. The club, however, does not stress competition to the exclusion of all else. Numerous social events are planned throughout the year. and there is a lot of sailing for pleasure only.

INTRAMURALS

In a large university varsity sports are reserved for the talented few. This is necessary if the school is to have athletic representation comensurate with its standing in other fields, but it leaves the great majority of the students to seek other outlets for their athletic endeavors. To remedy this situation UC has instituted a large and comprehensive intramural program. This program includes a variety of sports calculated to appeal to almost anyone to some extent, and large numbers of independent and affiliated students compete. Bill Schwarberg, aided by several student managers, runs the program.

INTRAMURAL MANAGERS: Kress, H., Cadwallader, W., Miller, E.

Intramural events are always keenly contested, and the winner of the all-year trophy is seldom determined until the very end of the year. Competition ran true to form during the 1951-52 season; and Sigma Chi, the eventual champion, was pushed up until the last few weeks by runner up Phi Delta Theta. Theta Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Beta Theta Pi occupied the third, fourth, and fifth spats. These final standings were decided by totaling the points accumulated by each group in the course of competing in fifteen different sports. In addition to the all-year trophy, a trophy was awarded to the group or individual winning each of these sports. This gives an added element of competition to the separate sports and encourages smaller groups and individuals to participate. Thirty-four groups competed in 1951-52.

It would be impossible to find a busier persan than Ralph anywhere on campus. A member of ODK, Orientation Board, Metro, Cincinnatus Society, and Pi Kappa Alpha, there is hardly an event in which he hasn't same part. But don't be fooled, in spite of this list he always has time to spend with his friends.

BILL BUMILLER

Efficient, but noted for an impish grin and love of a good time, that's Bill! His long list of activities attest to his ability, but it is only his friends who can tell of Bill's deep sincerity and purpose behind all of his work. Certainly he was the logical choice for lvy Day Orator.

BARBARA BUTSCH

This is one gal in a million! There aren't many as talented and versatile as Barb, yet so modest of their attributes. The Union captivated her talents from her freshman year, and each year saw her exercising more responsiblity. This year Barb was president of not only Union Board but of Theta also.

If you ever have a spare day, ask a Sig what he thinks of Clem. The glowing report is only the bare truth. Clem was Editor of the Cincinnatian, an officer in Men's Senate, Sophos, and Sigma. Besides his serious side Clem has the ability to find humor in just about any situation.

JOAN COCHRAN

Joan is known on campus for more than one talent. Beauty is one, as Joan was elected to the Junior Prom Court. Her activities, quite diversified ones, have gained the respect of many students. On her slate of accomplishments are such things as Union Board, Women's Senate, and Red Cross.

BETTY CONOLLY

Efficiency is this gal's middle name, it would seem! As general rush chairman for Pan Hellenic, Betty planned and kept the whole, hectic, two week rushing program running with nary a hitch. Her qualities of leadership were well rewarded by membership in Mortar Board, also.

BETTY DIECKMANN

Betty Dieckmann seems to have set herself a pattern by her own height: for she has gained the tap in all her efforts. As a math major, she made Phi Beta Kappa: as a leader she made Mortar Board. So don't let those dimples and sparkling eyes fool you! She's a personality we could not pass by.

All UC-ites proudly salute Margaret Duffy. She has worked hard and served well. Serious and intelligent, funloving and gracious, hardly suffice to describe her. Kappa, News-Record, Phi Beta, and Mortar Board claim her. Yet she always has time to flash her grin and stop for a little chat.

EVETTE DYKES

Always in a dither and a rush is this snappy girl named Dykes. She has won fame as a personality on campus because of her versatile and winning air. She is best known for her efforts as Profile Editor. Add this to her imposing list of activities and it spells Evette Dykes.

Before entering Law School which takes just about all of anyone's time, Stan could be found to have a part in almost every type of campus job. He "specialized" in the fields of Publications, with jobs on Profile and News-Record, and in Government, as Class President, and on Student Council.

CHUCK HERRON

Tall, blond, and blueeyed; and Engineering knowhow, too! More? Oh, yes, Chuck Herron is known far his ever ready smile and for having "plenty on the ball." Triangle, Co-op Engineer, and Student Council have claimed his time and efforts. They join in this tribute to an autstanding personality.

JIM KAUTZ

The name Jim Kautz and Activities are synonomous at UC. President of the Senior Class and a member of Phi Delta Theta, Jim also was active in ODK, Sigma Sigma, Metro, Theta Alpha Phi, and LA Tribunal. In his leisure time, Jim was business manager of Mummers and Student Directory.

PAUL MAYER

The potentialities of Paul Mayer are unlimited. In his five years in this country and and at UC he has mastered more things than just our language. Not only is Paul graduating from Engineering College as a member of Tau Beta Pi, but also as a leader on campus, as signified by his membership in ODK.

MARY MUELLER

With an imagination that operates a mile a minute and a personality to match, Mary is one of the people on campus that it is the most fun to know. Mary was undoubtedly one of the most active people too, as she served as President of Kappa Delta, Co-chairman of Greek Week, and Cincinnatian Photography Editor.

PAT MURRAY

She's lovely, she's engaged, she's Pat Murray. Pride of the Phys. Ed. Department, she served as prexy of W.A.A. this year. Irish through and through, Pat is easily recognized by her sparkling eyes and perky smile. For all her efforts and service to the University, she is a member of Mortar Board.

ready, friendly grin are Tom's well-known trademarks. As the captain of UC's 1952-53 basketball team, Tom was one of our outstanding athletes, and his winning personality made him one of the most popular people on campus, as his presidency of Sigma Sigma proved.

MARIANNE RINGWALD

If all girls had the effervescent personality of Marianne, getting well would sound like fun. However, this girl's talents don't stop with thermometers. Not only has she been a leader in her own college of Nursing and Health, but also on the campus. A small recognition of her efforts and abilities is membership in Mortar Board.

GLEN SAMPLE

Bearcat Trainer Scotty Kolp hung a "best ever" tag on Glen and few will dispute it. Captain of the football team, a baseball mainstay, member of Sigma Sigma, Ulex, and SAE, all these things accrue to "Samp's" credit. To top it all off, he was one of the best liked guys ever to hit the campus.

MARION SCHOELWER

Marion's quiet nature hides an unsuspected sense of humor and one of the most active co-eds on campus. An Associate Editor of the Cincinnatian, Vice-president of Theta Phi, and Secretary of the Union Program Cammittee, she has certainly seen just about every phase of campus life.

Shirley is one of those people who always exercises her energy for some worthwhile, unglorified cause, yet never seems to get much credit for the work she has done. In her UC years she has played active roles in Trianan, Home Ec. Tribunal, Guidon, and Women's Senate.

KEN STEVENSON

Engineers do have time for things other than their slide rules and Ken proved it! He has been an outstanding engineer too, as membership in several honoraries shows. On the campus scene he was President of ODK and Student Council, and chairman of the Board of Publications, all big jobs for anyone.

CAROL TAYLOR

So much ability in such a little girl! With her sparkling personality and sense of humor she has an enviable talent for getting things done. There is no surprise in seeing Carol go to the top in everything as she did as president of Women's Senate, City Editor of the News Record and member of Mortar Board.

TOM WOODWORTH

In his four years at UC, Tom has built up a staggering list of activities. In each of these he has attained a top position due to his leadership and winning personality. "Woody," as he is known, has had his finger in about every pie on campus. Phi Delt and Student Council, to name just two.

Any attempt to describe John always ends in bitter frustration. His talents were legion, and a list of his activities stretches to infinity. A song leader for SAE, of legendary prowess; member of Sigma Sigma, Ulex, and Sophos; musician and composer; where does it end? Nobody knows, not even John.

Commencement and Senior Week olways bring some of UC's favorite traditions into the spotlight of campus attention. Ceremony and custom are the watchwords os Senior Week opens with the impressive Baccolaureate Service on Sunday. Ivy Day follows, carrying on the traditional custom of having the President of the Senior Class plant a sprig of ivy on campus. Accompained by the outstanding Junior women selected to form the Ivy Chain, the Seniors in cops and gowns, march through campus to the Greek Ampitheatre for the ceremony. Though most of graduation week is remembered only through a haze of excitement by the average Senior these two events will always stand out clearly.

SENIOR WEEK

AS WE WAIT AND TRY TO LISTEN THOSE LAST FEW PRECIOUS MIN-UTES, OUR COLLEGE DAYS SEEM TO FLASH BEFORE US.

Speeches and dignified gatherings are not the only activities of Senior Week, for the formal functions give way several times to just plain "partying." The Strawberry Breakfast, given by Women's Senate to honor the senior women, is one such occasion and one of the few that will bring people to school early in the morning — willingly! The social highlight of the week is the Senior Prom which is eagerly anticipated and enjoyed by underclassmen as well as by Seniors. With no more exams, quizzes, or papers—in fact, no more school—lurking in the background for anyone, everyone has cause to celebrate.

BACCALAUREATE

Living like a king, for at least a while, is certainly everyone's secret desire and that is just how life is for a week for the Seniors! Royalty could not be more honored than these graduates as they are entertained, and "wined and dined" at banquets, luncheons, and even breakfasts. Of course, besides all of the "partying" there is a serious aspect to Senior Week and Graduation as these young men and women prepare to take their places in society, in the working world. This aspect is not neglected during the festivities of Senior Week, rather at the ceremonies to honor the graduates and their accomplishments they are again reminded that the real work is just beginning as they start the job of life. This seems mast appropriate, to award them for their achievements of the past and to give them a purpose for the future.

COMMENCEMENT

For four years everyone who enters college entertains secret dreams of the day on which he visualizes himself in the traditional cap and gown, marching proudly through the stadium to be graduated Summa Cum Laude, Cum Laude, or just plain graduated! That top rung of the ladder seems to be a long, hard climb away when looking at it from the battom one of the freshman, but the distance shortens amazingly as time passes and he nears the top.

APPLIED ARTS TRIBUNAL

Attempting to do more than merely co-ordinate activities af the college, the A.A. Tribunal constantly strives to encourage friendly relations among its entire student body. The first step towards its goal was the Freshman Mixer, followed by the A.A. Convocation in the Fall. The Beaux Arts Ball, the Christmas Party and the Tackle Box, the A.A. newspaper, are all sponsored by the tribunal. The final step in furthering their aims, is the all college spring picnic. At this time the seniors are given an informal farewell.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION TRIBUNAL

This year the Business Administration Tribunal in addition to carrying out its main function of regulating and co-ordinating the student activities of the college, helped on Co-op day, and presented the senior award to the outstanding senior male student. The Freshman orientation and smoker got the year off to a successful start by introducing the freshmen to the college. Other social events of the year were the Tribunal Dance, Bus. Ad. Picnic, and the Senior Dinner. Business and pleasure combined to make this a highly profitable year for the Tribunal.

HOME ECONOMICS TRIBUNAL

The purpose of the Home Economics tribunal is to promote and regulate all student activities within the college. Representatives from every class constitute the tribunal. The tribunal sponsored the annual Christmas Party for the Faculty and Students. "Horizons Unlimited" was the theme designated by the tribunal members for the Spring Project to acquaint newcomers of the unlimited possibilities in the various field of Home Economics.

LIBERAL ARTS TRIBUNAL

Liberal Arts Tribunal is the governing body for Liberal Arts College. In all its projects the Tribunal is of great service to the college and student body. At Thanksgiving and Christmas, Open Houses add to the holiday mood. Then after exams are over, everyone celebrates at the Blue Book Binge. Spring finds L.A. students tossing aside books for one day and going an a picnic. Besides these activities, the Tribunal supparts all the departmental clubs and works to imprave student-faculty relations within the college.

NURSING AND HEALTH TRIBUNAL

Every year the Nursing and Health Tribunal sponsors on number of social activities. It also makes and enforces legislation for the entire student body. All classes of the college are represented in the group, which holds its elections in the spring. Members try to maintain the traditions of the college, and promote co-operation between students and faculty, as well as to encourage active participation in university functions. Not only does the group help orient the freshmen, but it works to solve the problems of the upperclassmen.

TEACHERS COLLEGE TRIBUNAL

On Registration Day the freshmen had their first introduction to Tribunal at an informal tea. Tribunal haped to soften the chore with punch and cookies. The success of the affair prompted a repeat performance second semester. Faculty-student relations are of prime interest to T.C. Tribunal. This goal of improved relations was met by infarmal meetings of the graup with the faculty and numeraus open houses held throughout the year. Other new projects this year were a Senior Party and pre-election education for freshmen classes.

EVENING COLLEGE GRADUATES

Although UC students are aware of their many classmates who spend their days in numerous occupations while on section, they are unaware of those who work everyday and are not on section. They are the evening college students whose number exceeds the number of day time students on campus. Their quest for education is also accompanied by a quest for social activities. These include Nite Hawks, their newspaper, and their Student Council. They sponsor dances, coffee hours, and promote a scholarship fund.

MEDICAL COLLEGE GRADUATES

The College of Medicine, Eden and Bethesda Avenues, has for many years been a citadel of higher learning in the Art of Medicine. Each year, young men cross the threshold of the red brick building to enter a new world. For the first two years of training, white-coated students labor endlessly learning the secrets of the human body. At the end of four year's of intensive training, the medical student receives his hood with self-reliance and aplomb.

LAW SCHOOL GRADUATES

The Callege of Law has no need of a tribunal, for from at least as far back as 1850, (and probably much earlier), they have maintained an Honor System which is exactly similar to the famous University of Virginia system. For example, this means that students are free to take their quizzes and blue backs anywhere in the building during examination periods. Thus emphasis is necessarily placed on individual integrity. Infractions of this Honor code are considered by the Honor Cauncil, which is composed of twelve members of the student body,—the afficers af each class. The chairman of the group is the senior class president, who this year was Gene Barnhart.

Every REALTOR is a business man—a good business man or he wouldn't be allowed to use the professional title of REALTOR. Naturally he's in business to make a profit but—he places service to his clients above and before profit. Service Before Profit!

A real estate man must make that pledge before he can be a REALTOR. And he lives up to it not only because the rules governing REALTORS are enforced, but because in the long run, it's a good business to practice.

A good business practice for you is to place your real estate affairs in the hands of a REALTOR, because a REALTOR must have experience, ability, integrity, and follow a golden rule code of business ethics. When you make sure your Real Estate man is a REALTOR you are making sure of complete satisfaction.

Look for REALTOR in classified ads, in the phone book and on business stationery.

Why Carey Is A Good Place To Work

Many of our employees starting work in the positions listed below have won advancement to important supervisory and executive positions in our selling, manufacturing, accounting, and other activities. Carev offers the ideal type of organization in which to begin your business career and improve your earning possibilities. We are large enough to offer almost unlimited opportunities, and at the same time, small enough so that we can at all times keep in close personal touch with the abilities and development of the individual employee,

History and Products

The Philip Carey Manufacturing Company has fifteen sales offices and seven plants located throughout the United States and Canada. Carey is a major producer of building materials and industrial products. A forward-looking management and an effective research program makes us confident of continued growth. We produce a diversified line of more than 900 products, such as, Fire-Chex Shingles, Miami-Carey bathroom cabinets and accessories and Fire-Guard insulation. This diversification promotes continued demand for our company's products. Many openings offering security and advancement possibilities are available to ambitious technically or commercially trained graduates.

Call or Write

If you are interested in learning more about the opportunities at Carey, call V V 3000 and ask for Mr. Brockmeyer in the Industrial Relations Office, or write to him at the address below. He will be happy to arrange a convenient time for an interview to discuss your future, Positions that may be available to you as a University Graduate include openings in all phases of Accounting. Management, and Research; opportunities in Mechanical, Chemical and Industrial Engineering, and various trainee positions in the field of Sales.

Where's Your Interest? You Have A Lot to Choose From at The Schaible Company . . . plumbing and heating supplies, industrial valves, food-waste disposer.'

PLUMBING AND HEATING DIVISION

In addition to faucets and sink strainers, which The Schaible Company sells to jobbers and to the largest manufacturers of kitchen sinks and cabinets in the country, the Plumbing and Heating Division also produces the following items: globe, angle, check and gate valves, sill cocks, boiler drains, and other low pressure valves, air and vacuum valves, union elbows, automatic regulators and relief valves.

D. T. WILLIAMS VALVE DIVISION

expansion and consequent increase in job opportunities, we purchased the D. T. Williams Valve Company in 1949 and now operate it as a division of the company. D T. Williams valves are a vital part of industry the world over. Marine, oil, textile, automotive, coal chemical, building, food and many other industries use our products.

In line with our program of

Work in this division will appeal to young men and women particularly interested in the technical side of business and industry.

For information about our Student Counciling Program or a regular job interview, contact Mr. Robert T. Wilson, Director of Industrial Relations, 1086 Summer St.

DISPOSER DIVISION

This is our newest division and a perfect example of management's belief in that ingenuity and ability of our employees. It started when the young and brilliant head of our Product Research and Development Department had an idea that food-waste disposers could be made better and for less money than those currently on the market. The Schaible Company was willing to take a chance on his idea and encouraged tests and experimentation. This research proved the idea was sound and has resulted in the finest product of its kind on the market—which is now available to families everywhere.

In addition to our three divisions, we also operate one of the most modern foundries in the country. This foundry produces castings for all three divisions of the company and actually operates as a separate unit with its own management personnel.

YOUNG MEN MANAGE SCHAIBLE!

Opportunity grows side by side with expansion and record-breaking sales. In this last year alone, we've created lots of new opportunities. With few exceptions, our major personnel are young men in their late thirties or early forties. These men who have grown in responsibility and positions as the company has grown. Many of them joined us during the beginning stages of a new product or process and in time filled the many important jobs that arose.

Here's how to make your life happier

- Laugh with your favorite comedians on Crosley television . . . enjoy beautiful music on a Crosley radio. On sticky days you can relax in comfort in a room cooled by a Crosley Air Conditioner. And you'll save money, food, time with the extra space in a Crosley Shelvador refrigerator or freezer.
- These are just a few examples of how Crosley products make your life happier . . . examples of how Crosley is constantly working to make your home a brighter, more comfortable, more leisurely place to live in. The examples continue to gleaming steel cabinets, to Crosley sinks, electric ranges, food waste dispensers. And there are more to come! They're just part of a long line of Crosley's better products for happier living. Watch for them!
